MUCH DEPENDS ON M'CALLA.

Commander of the American Forces at Tien Tsin.

SITUATION IS NOT IMPROVED.

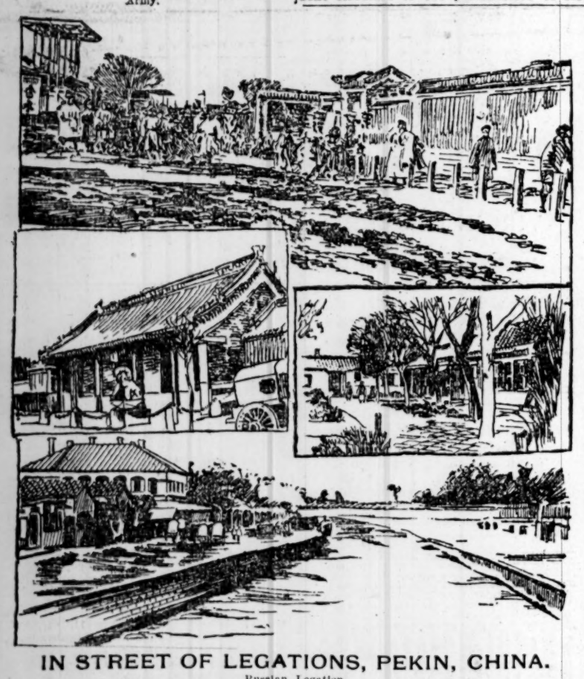

AMERICA WILL JOIN POWERS IN A DEMONSTRATION.

The Deposed Emperor, Through His Tutor Sends a Message to the Great Nations of the West.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Nothing is known as yet of the reasons which impelled Capt. H. McCalla to go ashore at Tien Tsin personally, instead of placing the little force of Americans under the command of a subordinate officer. A high official of the navy department took the view that the situation was so serious that Admiral Kempff considered it advisable to have the best officer on his ship ashore instead of keeping him on the Newark.

"Capt. McCalla is a cool-headed and able officer," said the official who advanced this opinion, "and Admiral Kempff very likely thought that the situation called for all the brains, ability and experience that could be secured. It is unusual to send the captain of a ship ashore, but Admiral Kempff is the judge of the needs of the situation. In my opinion, we shall have some very stirring news from China before the week is out."

One report from Tien Tsin seems to indicate that Capt. McCalla's detachment forms part of the force under command of British Vice-Admiral Seymor. It is not known whether this is a fact or whether McCalla merely went out with the vice-admiral and has taken up a position along the line where he is himself in sole command.

When Admiral Kempff is convinced that American troops should be landed he will wire to Gen. MacArthur and the latter will send a relief army to Taku for use in the interior of China. Gen. MacArthur has been prepared for such a demonstration during the last two weeks, and is supposed to have the transports and troops in readiness to sail at 10 hours' notice.

A London cable says that the United States have given "hearty adhesion" to the scheme for a European demonstration. The Russian minister at Pekin, who also acts as the envoy of Denmark, is credited with having sent a dispatch to the Danish foreign office to the effect that a demonstration had been planned, under the leadership of England and Russia, in which all the great powers and several of the smaller will take part. The latter are not called upon to send troops, as there are enough on the spot, but they are to be asked to delegate the right to hoist their flags to the great powers, in order that a demonstration may be made or a battle

HANNA'S NEW MILKING PLAN.

Postmasters Are Not Asked for Campaign Money.

BUT THEY GIVE IT AS BEFORE.

THEY SUBSCRIBE FOR A CAMPAIGN NEWSPAPER.

George J. Corey, Deputy New York Naval Officer, Is the Chief Frier of the Fat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Chairman Mark Hanna is not forgetting the postmasters' mites.

By a scheme centered in this city each postmaster throughout the United States is being asked to send $5 to the National Commercial and Industrial League, this city. At the head of the league is George J. Corey, deputy naval officer of the port of New York.

The national committee expects to realize $500,000 by this plan from fourth-class postmasters alone. To each fourth-class postmaster is sent 10 tickets of membership in the league, with instructions to dispose of them at 50 cents each and remit the proceeds to Mr. Corey. The plan was conceived to get around the law which prohibits assessment of governmental employes for political purposes.

Subsequently the high-salaried postmasters will be made to contribute and it is estimated that they will bring in three times as much as the little fish, or $2,000,000 in all.

The first call on fourth-class postmasters was made on May 1.

George J. Corey goes from his office in the custom house at 4 o'clock p. m. to the office of the league in the Bowling Building. In this office is published the official organ of the league, Commerce and Industries. Maj. Z. K. Pangborn of Jerseyville, Admiral Dewey's old schoolmaster, being the editor. There is an air of business around the place all day long and the mail is enormous.

As his reward he was appointed Consul at Amsterdam, Holland, but he returned to this country on account of the ill health of his wife and was made deputy naval officer at a salary of $2500 a year.

To a Post-Dispatch reporter Deputy Naval Officer Corey told yesterday what the National Commercial and Industrial League is doing to further the interests of Mr. McKinley. He said: "The charge that we are acting against the law by soliciting subscriptions from officeholders is untrue, because we do not ask postmasters for any money. Here is our publication, which is worth more than we ask for it. We have sent circulars to the postmasters of New York State and Illinois, each circular being accompanied by 10 cards.

"We ask the postmasters to give the cards to 10 Republicans in his town. Each card when filled out by the recipient means a subscription to our official organ, being 50 cents for six months, or $5 from each town.

"Our plan has received the indorsement of Chairman Hanna of the Republican national committee."

"What becomes of the surplus of what you receive?" Mr. Corey was asked.

"Why, it goes into the paper and to the fund for running the league."

"What other sources of income have you? Are there any direct contributions?"

"Only in this way. Some prominent man who is mentioned in the paper or has his picture printed orders a thousand or two copies at 10 cents each."

"Is the publication for the campaign only?" Mr. Corey was asked.

"Yes," was the reply; "but the league intends to be permanent. It was organized in February last and will during the campaign take the place of the Republican clubs which did service in 1896."

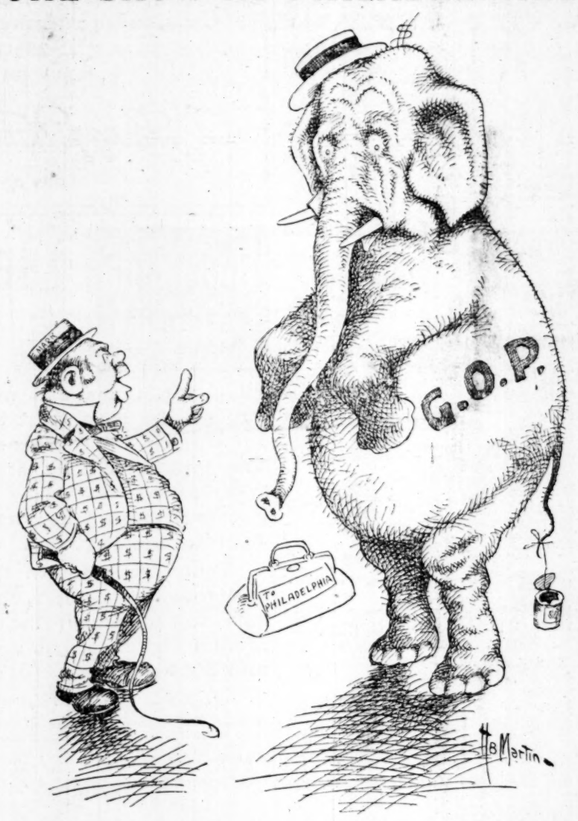

The list of honorary members is headed by Gov. Roosevelt, Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff, Senator Hanna, Russell Sage, ex-Mayor Strong, Collector Bidwell and Postmaster Van Cott.

BIG GOLD DUST DEPOSITS.

Over $200,000 Received at Assay Office in Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 12.—The season of 1900 opened at the United States Assay Office very auspiciously, their being $200,000 worth of gold dust deposited by 53 miners who came down from the north Sunday morning on the steamer City of Seattle. The largest individual depositor was F. G. Noyes, who had $50,000. Axel Carlson deposited the smallest amount, $300. He has a small fortune in nuggets which he will take east with him.

LESS HOURS AND MORE PAY

Amicable Settlement of Grievance of Street Car Employes in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., June 12.—The amicable adjustment of the question of hours between the Cincinnati Street Railway Co. and its employes is quite in contrast to the conditions prevailing in St. Louis just now. There has been no strike, but the employes requested better hours and more pay for their labor. The company took up these requests in a business-like way, and an amicable adjustment has been made. The concessions made come in the nature of a surprise to the men, who have at all times acted with discretion and have earned the respect of President Kilgour and his board of directors by their judicious behavior. Recently Mr. Kilgour has been sending for the leading conductors and motormen of the various lines and offered them two propositions, either of which he said would be satisfactory to the company. The first was a ten-hour-and-a-half straight work day, without any relief for meals, at the same pay as for 12 hours—$2 a day.

The second proposition was an eleven-hour work day, with one-half hour meal relief, at the same wages—$2 a day.

Out of these propositions an agreement grew, the terms of which are given in the following circular, issued by the company to its employes, and which has been accepted by the men:

"The Cincinnati Street Railway Co., after carefully looking over its business for the past fiscal year, terminating June 30, 1900, and comparing it with the year 1899, is satisfied that it can in justice to all parties in interest make an increase to its conductors and motormen in the matter of compensation. This increase will be in the form of a reduction of time of the working hours. Whereas heretofore and at the present the working hours have been twelve hours per day and compensation 16 2-3 cents per hour, with relief in the middle of the day for dinner and in the evening for supper, from and after June 20, 1900, the number of hours will be reduced to ten and one-half hours, making the compensation 19 cents per hour.

"The stockholders and employes stand in relation to each other as partners. As to the division of the receipts of this partnership, it is best shown by the manner in which a nickel (5 cents) is divided:

	Cents.
Under the system as at present—
Stockholders receive	1.375
Employes receive	2.275

BATES DIVORCE GRANTED

Judge Withrow Issues a Decree on the Husband's Cross Bill—Mrs. Bates Absent.

Judge Withrow heard evidence Tuesday in the divorce suit of Lou E. Bates against Charles L. Bates. The hearing was had on the defendant's cross-bill, the plaintiff not appearing to prosecute her suit.

In answer to the plaintiff's charges of mistreatment against the defendant, he says she told untrue stories about him and abused him to the neighbors. He also charges her with improper conduct and claims that she has an idea that she is going to be a great actress and writer of plays.

The case was tried principally on depositions, and some of them contained statements that Mrs. Bates believes in spiritualism and professes to hold communion with the spirits of great actors.

The couple have children and they have aligned themselves with their father's cause, and testimony in his behalf was offered from them.

Bates is the purchasing agent of a large jewelry firm.

CANNOT FLOAT HIS BONDS.

NEW YORK, June 12.—There is some comment in banking circles over the presence of M. Rothstein of St. Petersburg in this city. His visit to this country is said to be in the interest of a large Russian government railway loan. The general opinion seems to be that Russian complications in the east will operate against any successful placing of a loan here, even if it were otherwise possible.

Mr. Rothstein called on President Stillman of the National City Bank. Mr. Stillman said later that it was absurd to talk about the floating of Russian bonds when even United States bonds are not in active demand, and the presidential election is coming on.

IS BLISS THE MAN?

FINGER OF FATE POINTS TO HIM FOR VICE PRESIDENCY.

HE IS FAVORED BY HANNA.

Quay After Hanna's Scalp—McKinley's Nomination to Be Rushed to Avoid Trouble.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 12.—There is a strong undercurrent running for Cornelius N. Bliss of New York for vice-president.

Few of the leaders are here and practically none of the delegates, but those who are here all seem to think that the situation demands Bliss, and that he is more likely to be the nominee than is any of the candidates now in the field.

Bliss is the man most favored by Senator Hanna. It is known, too, that the President likes his former secretary of the interior very much, and that next to Allison he would prefer him as a ticket mate.

National Committeeman Payne, Senators Scott and Kean and Secretary Dick all have a good word to say for Bliss and say no man is big enough to decline if nominated.

Some of them go as far as to say that even Senator Allison would not decline if the convention selected him.

The sentiment for Bliss is not representative yet, and the leaders who are here appear to forget that they will have a strong Dolliver boom to fight against if there is an intention to force the nomination of Bliss. The Republican congressional campaign committee is coming here shouting for Dolliver.

Gov. Roosevelt is considered an impossibility, that is there seems no disposition to force the nomination on him. No serious attention is paid to Gen. Francis V. Greene and the other candidates has no supporters.

As things stand it is the two men who have declined—Bliss and Allison as leaders' choices, with Dolliver and Long coming with delegates back of them.

There is talk here that the Pennsylvania delegation, headed by ex-Senator Quay, is likely to make trouble if trouble can be made. If the Pennsylvania's find out what Senator Hanna wants it is more than likely that they will go off at right angles. Their only choice will be on the vice-presidential nomination. They want to punish Hanna for his vote against Quay.

No choice has yet been made for an order to make the speech for McKinley although it is probable that Senator Foraker will officiate again. Senator Foraker is to make a speech for McKinley, but it is not yet settled that he is to make the big speech. That matter will be settled when Senator Hanna gets here on Wednesday. It is a matter of some concern and the proceedure of the convention is under serious discussion. It is not likely that there will be a call of states. When it comes time to nominate, the orator must be recognized and the nomination made by acclamation after the speeches are made otherwise some small fry will spoil everything.

NO HOT WEATHER RIGHT AWAY

Dr. Hyatt Says a Couple of "Highs" Are Going to Keep Things Cooled Off a While.

Dr. Hyatt, weather forecaster, says he won't uncork the hot weather bottle for a few days at least. A "high" over the north Rockies and another over the lakes are expected to squeeze the water out of the "low" which is prevailing in this region. This means showers Tuesday night.

After that Dr. Hyatt says cooler weather should prevail.

"You notice my prediction for a cool night come true," he remarked Tuesday. "I closed my windows and got under cover when I went to bed, and I wasn't fooled."

SOUTHERN ELECTRIC CARS TO RUN

OVER OLD ROUTE FROM HOWARD STREET SOUTH,

TUESDAY NIGHT UNTIL 12 O'CLOCK.

BOTH SUSPECTS SAY NOT GUILTY.

Miss Haering's Alleged Assailants Held by the Court.

CHARLES MICHEL GIVES BOND.

HENRY FUCHS WHOM SHE IDENTIFIED GOES BACK TO JAIL.

Prosecuting Witness Was Not Present Tuesday Morning—Trial Set for Wednesday of Next Week.

Charles Michel and Henry Fuchs were arraigned in the Court of Criminal Correction Tuesday morning on charges of assault and battery. The warrants were sworn out Monday afternoon by Miss Annie Haering of 4253 Delmar boulevard, as was told in The Post-Dispatch.

Both of the defendants entered pleas of not guilty and Judge Clark ordered that the cases be set for trial June 20.

Michel was released on a $200 bond signed by Fritz Bothman, a saloonkeeper across the street from the Four Courts. Fuchs was unable to furnish bond and was remanded to jail.

It is charged that Michel and Fuchs on June 3 attacked and partially disrobed Miss Annie Haering at Ninth street and Allen avenue as she stepped from a Transit Company's car.

Michel is over six feet tall and is powerfully built. He is single and lives with his mother on South Broadway. He says that he is employed in a South St. Louis rolling mill. Miss Haering, when she made the report of the attack, requested that the police not divulge her correct name. She gave the name of Miss Catherine Thiele, but gave her correct name and address at the same time. She said that in case the police arrested any one whom she could identify she would appear in court and prosecute. A number of arrests were made, but not until Monday were any arrests made when Miss Haering could identify the accused.

HENRY FUCHS.

Fuchs is quite different in appearance from Michel. He is 16 years old and is slight for his years. He does odd jobs and lives at 1926 South Tenth street. He was poorly clad, his clothing contrasting greatly with Michel's stylishly made suit.

Both deny that they had anything to do with the attack upon Miss Haering.

"I never saw the woman in my life to know her," said Fuchs to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning, "until I saw her yesterday in Chief's Desmond's office. On the day she says she was attacked I went over to Lafayette Park, and when I got back home there was a big crowd out in the street, and I could see that they were beating some one. I didn't go near the woman and I didn't get a good look at her.

"That boy was the leader of the gang that attacked me," said Miss Haering, as soon as she saw Fuchs in the chief's office Monday. "I would know his face anywhere. I wish that I could forget the things that occurred on that day, but if I were to live always I could not forget the face of that boy.

"I witnessed the attack of the lady from a distance," said Michel, "but I had no part in the affair. I was at least 15 feet away from her at the time. I didn't go to her assistance, I don't know why I didn't. I could see that the crowd was beating her and tearing her clothes from her, but I didn't think it was any of my business, as I didn't have anything to do with the affair.

"After the thing was over I saw a boy walking down the street. He had a big piece of white cloth in his hands. He said the boy was crying out the cloth was a piece of her under garment and he was offering it for 5 cents a piece. I asked the boy for a piece and he gave it to me. I don't know why I wanted the piece of cloth. I just took it for fun."

"I could not swear," said Miss Haering, "that this man actually struk me or that he actually laid his hands on me. But he was in the crowd that treated me so badly, I am positive of this. There can be no mistake."

Rine-Thomas Inquests Will Be Held Wednesday and the Coroner Will Investigate the Bohne Homicide Thursday—Many Persons Subpenaed.

COMPANY SAYS ALL LINES ARE OPEN EXCEPT THE BROADWAY CABLE ROAD.

Sheriff Pohlman Resumes the Swearing In of Deputies and Says He Expects Soon to Have 2500, the Number Ordered.

PROCLAMATION MUST BE OBEYED.

By Police President Hawes.

Mayor Ziegenhein's proclamation will be enforced by the arrest of every minor found on the streets between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise. Police officers and deputy sheriffs will be instructed to arrest them and lock them up in the station houses. The punishment for failure to obey the proclamation is confinement in the House of Refuge for 30 days.

That part of the proclamation forbidding the firing of guns, pistols, torpedoes, bombs and firecrackers will also be rigidly enforced. Such acts are in defiance of the statutes, and policemen and deputies are expected to arrest offenders wherever found.

General Manager Baumhoff and the police authorities have decided to operate the Southern Electric line Tuesday night.

Chief Campbell said: "I regard this the most difficult of all the lines to run safely after dark. If this line can be run at night all the other lines can be similarly operated. Every precaution will be taken to prevent interference and violence.

"Large squads of possemen will guard the right of way and policemen will be placed on every car to protect the crews and passengers.

"The cars will run on the route of the Southern Electric from Howard street to the southern limits of the city."

These cars pass through the districts where two weeks ago seven persons were wounded by bullets in one day during disturbances growing out of the opening of the South Broadway line, the green cars from the Southern Electric being run on Broadway.

Mr. Johnson Will Attend Inquests.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Johnson has decided to be present at the inquest on the bodies of the two strikers who were killed Sunday evening at Sixth street and Washington avenue, in order to expedite his decision concerning the issuance of warrants.

This is an unusual procedure, and is probably the first occurrence of the kind in St. Louis. The usual method is for the assistant prosecuting attorney to wait until he receives a transcript of the evidence taken at the inquest before deciding about the issuance of warrants. Mr. Johnson will hear the testimony and decide at once.

The inquest will be held Wednesday morning. A large number of witnesses will be present.

Dr. Woodruff Cannot Identify Brick Thrower.

Dr. F. E. Woodruff, surgeon of the sheriff's posse, who was reported to have identified J. H. Kennedy of 2305 Dodier street as the man who threw a brick at a car and precipitated the shooting on Washington avenue Sunday evening, positively denies to the Post-Dispatch that he has made any identification whatever.

"I did see the brick thrown," Dr. Woodruff said, "but I was unable to single out the man who threw it. I cannot tell whether it was William Thomas or not. I have identified nobody, as it would be impossible for me to do so."

Bohne Inquest Set for Thursday.

When Coroner Lloyd, at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, was ready to open the inquest on the body of Frederick Bohne, who was killed by Special Deputy Sheriff Robert E. Marsh in the yard of his home, at 1734 North Tenth street, Sunday afternoon, it was discovered that neither Marsh nor any of the other deputies subpenaed as witnesses was present.

The following jurymen, nearly all from one section of South St. Louis, had been summoned, and were in their chairs waiting for the inquest to begin: Charles Dittmann, 2114 South Broadway, plumber; Charles Boldt, 2120 South Broadway, dry goods; John W. Benda, 2116 South Broadway, grocer; Charles Abetmeyer, 2214 South Broadway, grocer; Frank Helbig, 4550 Broadway, grocer; Louis Onemus, 900 Arsenal street, umbrellas.

The coroner seemed very much surprised and not a little vexed. Police Lieut. Stack and the several civilian witnesses who had been subpenaed were on hand. The officer who had notified the deputy witnesses was present. The deputies summoned were Capt. L. D. Picot of Company 16 and Albert Kersten, William Kelly, George Karmann, R. L. Thompson, S. N. Maykovieri and George G. Strathern.

Immediately upon learning that none of the deputies was present, Coroner Lloyd telephoned to the posse barracks, inquiring why they had not appeared. "Marsh is practically a prisoner," the coroner said over the telephone, "and there is no reason why he should not be here."

Lieut. Hinckley, who was at the telephone at posse headquarters, made a reply which brought forth from Coroner Lloyd the remark: "But it is the law of the land, and these men should have appeared here at 9 o'clock, the hour named in the subpenas. Why are they not on hand?"

The coroner then announced that the inquest was postponed until 8 o'clock Thursday morning, and demanded of posse headquarters that Marsh and the other deputies wanted should be present promptly at that hour.

Coroner Lloyd also telephoned to Chief of Police Campbell, asking that the men

"Refrain From Gathering in Public Places; Do Not Discharge Firearms or Fireworks."

(MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION IN FORCE THREE DAYS.)

Whereas, During the pendency of the present railway strike and the crisis through which the city is now passing, it is of the utmost public importance that all excitement be suppressed, and that no acts of any kind be done which may tend to produce or create excitement in public places, such as the assembling of crowds or groups of persons upon the streets, the discussion of the situation in boisterous language, or the discharge of firearms or fireworks:

Therefore, I, the undersigned, mayor of the city of St. Louis, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by law, do hereby proclaim and direct that all persons in the city of St. Louis refrain from gathering in numbers on the public streets or in public places; that all persons refrain from loud or noisy disputes or arguments in public, that all persons, particularly women and children, remain indoors as much as possible until the present situation is relieved; that jeering or abusive language, or language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace be not indulged in.

And all persons are especially warned against the discharge, within the city limits, of firearms of any kind or description, and against the firing and exploding of bombs, torpedoes, firecrackers, or any species of fireworks.

All minors are warned to keep within doors during the next three days, and parents are notified that all minors found out of doors between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise are subject to arrest and imprisonment under the provisions of section 2139 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri of 1899.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the corporate seal of the city of St. Louis to be hereto affixed by the Register, at the city of St. Louis.

HY. ZIEGENHEIN,
Mayor of the City of St. Louis.

Mayor Ziegenhein issues this proclamation at the request of the chief of police; says the proclamation was drawn for only three days because the law places that limit on proclamations.

be compelled to appear Thursday morning.

The coroner said that the deputies were notified through the regular channels to be at his office at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Capt. Moffitt, who is in command of the men wanted as witnesses, said that he received instructions Monday night from Adjutant G. B. Webster to have the men report at the Four Courts by 10 o'clock, and that he sent them thither in charge of a posse sergeant Tuesday morning. He said that no subpenas had been served on the men to appear at the inquest, and that none were needed, as the deputies were willing to appear.

At 11:30 o'clock Chief of Police Campbell and Chief of Detectives Smith said that, so far as they knew, Marsh and the other deputies had not reported at the Four Courts.

Capt. Moffitt received subpenas just before noon for the deputies to appear at the coroner's office for the inquest at 8 o'clock Thursday morning.

Bohne was shot by Deputy Marsh about 3:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A squad of 10 deputies, on duty at the power house, at Broadway and Salisbury street, were passengers on a Bellefontaine line car returning from downtown. It is said that a woman alighted from the car and was attacked by three men, whom the deputies pursued.

When Deputy Marsh reached Bohne's home, at 1724 North Tenth street, he claims, one of the men he was pursuing climbed the fence into the yard and poked a revolver through the fence. Marsh then fired his riot gun, instantly killing Mr. Bohne, who was standing in his yard at the other side of the fence.

Mr. Bohne was 65 years old and lived with his daughter, Mrs. Martin Stretcher. Marsh is 36 years old and lives at 2603 Olive street.

Police Lieut. Stack, who witnessed the shooting, says he warned the deputies not to shoot, as they might kill innocent persons.

The police attempted to arrest Marsh, but Posse Capt. Lloyd T. Moffit, who was in charge of the squad, refused to give him up, saying that Marsh had simply done his duty, and that in any event no one had any authority to arrest him except his superior officer in the posse. Marsh returned to the North Broadway power house and resumed his duties as a deputy sheriff.

All Lines Running Except Broadway Cable.

General Manager Baumhoff said Tuesday morning: "All the lines in the transit company's system are now being operated except the Broadway cable. The Southern Electric line to Carondelet was the last to be opened. No cars had run to Carondelet since May 8 until a day or two ago, when through trips to the city limits began. As yet this line is not running to its southern terminus at Jefferson Barracks, but I think I will be able to restore the normal car service within a few days.

"The Baden and the Southwestern lines were among the last to resume service. Much wire cutting delayed the opening of these lines.

"There has been less interference with the hauling of supplies to carsheds for transit employes than was the case a week ago.

"I deplore the tragedy of Sunday evening, but I believe it is having a good deterrent effect.

THE FULL 2500 MEN WANTED

Sheriff Pohlman Resumes Swearing in Deputies and Criticizes the Governor.

Sheriff Pohlman Tuesday resumed the swearing in of deputies. Nearly all the men sworn in are volunteers. A number of summonses are being served, however, and all of the men who appeared in answer to these Tuesday were well known citizens.

The sheriff said Tuesday that he would continue the work of organizing the posse until the full number of men asked for—2500—should have been secured. "I can do nothing else," the sheriff said, "so long as I do not desire to go to jail for failure to obey my orders under the law. That is all that I have had to do with the summoning of this posse. I have told the governor that the posse and the police together are unable to control the situation. He has totally ignored my request for the militia. He has not even had the decent courtesy to reply to my request in any manner whatsoever, notwithstanding the fact that I informed him that I would remain down town beyond office hours the night that he was in St. Louis in order to receive any instructions he might desire to give or to give him any further information he might desire. The posse will be filled, and I want to say that it will be filled by men to whom there can be no possible just objection by either party to the unfortunate controversy which has been the cause of calling it out. There my duty so far as it has been imposed by the governor and the police board ends."

The first men to appear at the sheriff's office for posse duty Tuesday were twenty-four members of the Grand Army of the Republic, who were immediately sent to the barracks and organized into the first squad of a company which, when completed, is to be known as "The Vets."

All other deputies sworn in Tuesday were sent to the barracks in small squads and were immediately placed under drill by Assistant Colonel Batdorf.

Commissions were issued Tuesday to new staff captains as follows: Ralph S. Buck, Benjamin F. Horn and James C. Harvey. These three captains were detailed to assist Inspector General Joseph L. Hanley, and are known at the barracks as assistant inspector's general.

The legal advisers of the posse, all of whom are serving as deputies, were in conference with Adjutant Webster the greater part of Tuesday morning and engaged in the preparation of a list of witnesses who are to appear Wednesday at the coroner's inquest over the victims of the Sunday disturbance in front of the barracks. The witnesses, the officers in the barracks say, will testify that each of the men killed and wounded was shot in order to protect the lives of members of the posse. Thomas, it is charged, was taking aim at Adjutant Webster at the time that he was shot by another deputy, and Burkhardt, the witnesses will testify, had a revolver pointed at Col. Cavender at the moment he was hit by a charge from a riot gun.

Military rule at the barracks, which has been strict since the establishment, has grown more rigorous since Sunday. Monday night no one was allowed to approach the barracks from the south side and a searchlight was thrown on the alley directly opposite the southern entrance.

The patrol was extended several blocks and no one was allowed to loiter in the vicinity on either side of the barracks. Guards stationed at the corner of Broadway and Washington avenue kept close watch on the passenger wagons, the lines of which from both north and south terminate at this corner.

More sentries have been placed on duty inside the barracks and even members of the posse cannot approach headquarters in the north end without permission and the escort of the corporal of the guard.

Company 23, which was organized Monday and is known as "Cunningham's Own," has not yet been assigned to duty. The members of the company, exclusively lawyers and business men, are volunteers. The company contains 68 men, a full complement, and was raised by Edward Cunningham, Jr., who was appointed captain.

The company spent nearly all day Tuesday in drill and will probably be kept at the barracks for several days, according to custom, before being assigned to outside duty. Company 23 in point of prominence of its members rivals Company F, which has heretofore been most notable from this point of view. The roster beside Capt. Cunningham is as follows:

Edward Cunningham, Jr., captain; F. G. Edwards and Paul F. Coste, lieutenants; J. G. McConkey, D. G. Taylor, Isaac H. Lionberger, Jesse MacDonald, Clifford Mott and Louis C. Bauduy, sergeants, and the following in the ranks:

C. H. Spencer, ex-president of the Merchants' Exchange, and Thomas H. Francis, brother of Gov. Francis, are doing sentry duty at night. Private Spencer, DeLacey Chapman and David Eiseman spent a portion of both Monday and Tuesday in serving summons on other members of the exchange. The reason of their visit to the floor was unsuspected, and before it was learned they had "served papers" on a number of prominent traders, among whom are H. G. Craft, C. M. Bunton, Will P. Howard, E. C. Chamberlain, George F. Langenberg, Ed W. Lansing and Will K. Stanard.

BURKHARDT IS STILL ALIVE

Despite His Mortal Wound He Continues to Live—Marvin Stood an Operation Well.

Edward Burkhardt, who was shot during the trouble at Sixth and Washington avenue Sunday, is still alive at the City Hospital. He was conscious Monday, but could not talk coherently.

Dr. Neitert says the man's strong vitality is keeping him alive.

Oscar Marvin, whose left hand was shattered during the same trouble, stood the shock of amputation nicely. Monday he felt so well that he asked permission to leave the hospital. Dr. Neitert counseled the man to remain until the danger of blood poison was lessened.

SIX FINED IN POLICE COURT

Judge Sidener Found Them Guilty of Offenses Incident to the Strike.

A number of men charged with committing offenses in connection with the street car strike were tried before Judge Sidener in the Police Court Tuesday. Six men were fined.

Dennis Larkin, a driver, who was arrested for jeering at deputy sheriffs while passing the Planters' Hotel Monday evening, was fined $5 and costs.

George Wieokels of 1844 South Ninth street, who was arrested by Sergeant Meyers for jeering at a motorman while a car was passing 1900 South Ninth street June 1, was sentenced to pay $5 for his remarks.

James Sweeny and Frank Kelley, who were charged with creating a disturbance at the Park and Vandeventer avenue car sheds June 6, were fined $5 and $10 respectively.

Ben Hogan, car inspector for the 'Frisco Railroad, was arrested for jeering at a car load of deputy sheriffs who were passing Union Station Saturday night. Hogan attempted to persuade Judge Sidener that another man standing beside him was responsible for the trouble. "Fined $10 and costs," was the judge's comment.

Thomas O'Riely of 206 Douglas street was fined $10. H. Paulis, a conductor on the Olive street line, said that O'Reily approached him at Twelfth and Olive streets, called him names and ran.

John Williams, emergency policeman, Sergt. Deathridge, his superior officer, and Joe Davis, an obstinate huckster, were the actors in a scene that caused Police Judge Sidener to relax his judicial gravity. Davis was on trial for obstructing the street at Jefferson and Market with his wagon Monday morning. Williams' head was in bandages.

"How were you hurt?" the judge asked.

"Sergeant Deathridge hit me; he saw me arresting Davis, who was fighting, and he busted me with a club," Williams replied.

"I saw the men struggling," the sergeant explained. "Williams was on top. He didn't look like a policeman, so I clubbed him."

Judge Sidener laughed with the audience and discharged the defendant, Davis.

ROBBED THE LABOR LEADERS

Rooms of Mahon, Benz and Others Entered and Papers and Letters Taken Away.

President Mahon's room at the Hotel Barnum was entered and ransacked last Saturday during his absence, and a bunch of letters and papers was taken. None of the documents, it is declared, is of any value. Nothing else was reported taken.

Robbery of the rooms of National Organizer Benz of the American Federation of Labor, personal representative of President Samuel Gompers, and of Harry Bryan, national organizer of the Street Railway Employes' Union, were also reported at the strike headquarters Tuesday morning.

Mr. Benz said that valuable papers, showing that he was the accredited representative of the federation in St. Louis, at this time, were taken from the room, besides other documents that were of no other value than that placed upon them by the federation.

Organizer Bryan also complains that papers deemed valuable by him were removed.

Both of the labor leaders say that they have been followed for the past few days by men who they have been unable to shake off their tracks.

EXPLOSIVES FOR DEPUTIES

Combination of Dynamite and Nitro-Glycerine Covered With Cabbage Leaves on the Track.

Experts who have examined the explosive found under cabbage leaves on the tracks of the Market street cars at Twentieth and Clark avenue Monday night believe that a large portion of the substance is nitro-glycerine and they say that it would have demolished the car if it had exploded.

The explosive was first sighted by Road Officer W. T. Haynes, who was on the front platform of a car loaded with deputies. His attention was attracted to the cabbage leaves on the track. Another car had preceded the deputies' car but a short distance and the back car was running slowly. Something about the leaves caused suspicion. An investigation showed that under each one was a stick of the explosive.

It was evident that the explosive had been placed on the track after the car preceding had passed, and the deputies believe that the persons who planned disaster for their car had received knowledge that the car coming had possemen aboard and that their lives in particular were sought. No suspicious characters were found in the vicinity and no arrests were made.

FOR THE STRIKERS' 'BUS LINE

Meeting to Be Held Tuesday Night of the Committee of Fifty. to Organize.

The committee of fifty appointed to raise the fund of $100,000 to maintain a 'bus line in competition with the transit company will meet Tuesday night to perfect its organization and issue a call on the national and international labor organizations for contributions to the proposed fund.

The meeting will be held at Delabar's hall, Broadway and Elm street, and members of the committee say that by Wednesday telegrams will have been sent to all of the organized bodies in this country acquainting them with the local situation.

GOMPERS COMING THIS WEEK

President of the American Federation Expected to Direct the Local Strike.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has telegraphed President Mahon that he will arrive in St. Louis some time during the present week.

"Gompers will exercise a supervisory direction of the strike," said a member of the union. "As the head of all the federated trades in the American Federation he is the highest leader of the labor movement in America and when on the field of the strike is the superior officer."

STRIKERS NAME COMMITTEES

Ten Men to Collect Evidence on the Sunday Shooting—Another Committee to Protest Against the Wagon Order.

Members of the street railway union and others assembled to the number of about 2000 in the West End Coliseum Monday night, appointed a committee of 10 to furnish evidence for the pending inquiries into the shooting of last Sunday.

Resolutions setting forth this action, as well as the appointment of a committee to ask the authorities to rescind their order removing wagons used for the transportation of passengers from their present stands along the downtown streets, were passed by the meeting. The resolutions read:

Resolved, by the citizens of St. Louis in mass meeting assembled, That we deplore the tragic deaths of our fellow-citizens who were shot down last Sunday evening in cold blood by hired assassins; that we now pledge ourselves to see that the full power of the law is exercised in bringing to trial and justice the so-called deputy sheriffs guilty of these crimes; and be it further

Resolved, That a committee of 10 be appointed to prosecute these guilty deputies and all other deputies who exceed their authority or commit crimes under the guise of the law; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee be instructed to attend the inquests of those who have been slain and see that all evidence is produced tending to bring out the truth and facts as they exist; as well as to report back to another mass meeting, to be called as soon as they can report progress; and be it further

Resolved, That we condemn the actions of the authorities in removing the wagons from their stands along the streets; that we cannot but view such action as in the interests of the street railway trust in an endeavor to force the people to ride on the cars by making it as inconvenient as possible for them to obtain wagons; and be it further

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to wait upon the proper authorities and demand the rescinding of this order of removal and that said committee report back its action as soon as practicable to a mass meeting to be called later.

Crepe streamers were intertwined with the American flag hanging over the platform, from which the speeches were made.

H. W. Steinbiss, general secretary and treasurer of the National Building Trades Council of America, as chairman of the meeting, opened the meeting by calling on any clergyman in the body of the house to raise voice in prayer. No minister being present, Mr. Steinbiss said:

"It is not necessary for me to tell you all why we are here tonight. We are here to avenge the deaths of our brothers who were murdered on Sunday in a legal form. We want these murderers hanged for their cowardly work. The only way that the transit company can kill the strike is to kill the strikers. Besides bringing the common murderers of our brothers to justice, we want to look beyond them and fasten the blame on the shoulders of those who are primarily responsible for this horible affair—Whitaker and Baumhoff."

George Jackson was introduced and said that 38 years ago he had taken up arms in defense of freedom for the slaves, but the conditions now among the labor classes were worse than those of the former slaves. He said: "The shots which on Sunday sounded the deathknell of innocent men also rang the deathknell of the capitalistic crowd now fighting the working people of St. Louis through hired thugs." He closed by appealing for vengeance by peaceable means.

R. Fagin, former sergeant Company 16 of the sheriff's posse, who was discharged from posse service with 28 of his men who refused to ride in darkened transit company cars, told the assemblage of his experience as a member of the posse. Fagin said: "I explained to the sheriff when called on for posse duty that I had already served my country in the Spanish-American war, but I was not excused. Last Thursday I was sent from the barracks on Washington avenue with my company to quell a reported disturbance at Broadway and Salisbury street. We were taken there in transit company cars. On arriving there I could see no signs of any trouble. The street soon filled with people attracted by our arrival. The windows of the houses around there were filled with women and children. My superior officer issued orders to shoot at the first sign of an outbreak. He ordered that the windows of the house be raked with shot. I commanded my company to put down their guns and not to aim at the windows. My superior asked me what I meant by ordering my men to lower their guns, and I told him that many innocent people might be sacrificed and I did not propose to be responsible. He then told me that he would place me under arrest for disobeying the orders of a suerior officer. I told him that if he ordered the men to aim at the windows of houses I would shoot him myself."

H. L. Pierce delivered a prayer calling on the Almighty to place within the hearts of all His believers a feeling that would bring justice to the strikers.

R. H. Murphy, a former emergency policeman, told of his experiences while guarding transit company cars.

Martin Williams made the address of the evening. It was received with shouts of approval and laughter, as the speaker derided the officials of the police departent and charged the transit company with violations of the law in the matter of car licenses. Among other things he said: "Pursue the deputies who shot strikers until they are brought to justice; begin a general boycott by the use of bus lines in competition with the transit company cars at 5-cent fares."

Edwin Fembach, who, with his wife and family were in the midst of the fusillade Sunday at Washington avenue and Sixth street, declared that he had seen nothing which he thought had provoked the shooting.

John T. Wilson, chief of the National Trackmen's Association, made a brief speech, in which he counseled the raising of a fund to help maintain a boycott and to assist the widows and children of the dead strikers.

Jon Walle of Little Rock, Ark., who said that he had been quartermaster of the Fourth Missouri regiment, declared that he had been knocked down by a deputy sheriff in the disturbance Sunday. He said that he had seen the shooting and declared that it was unprovoked. He urged that every person at the meeting attend the Council Tuesday afternoon to demand the passage of the Kelly bill repealing the street railway franchise.

The following committee was appointed to attend to the securing of evidence in the Sunday shooting: William Miller, H. Martin Williams, R. H. Murphy, S. L. Moser, John T. Wilson, Edwin Fembach, R. Fagin, H. L. Pierce Geo. N. Jackson and John B. Carter. Judge Commerce Bashaw, ex-United States district attorney, and Cortez Kitchen.

Poison in Potatoes.

The public is becoming excited over the statement recently made that potatoes contain a poison called solanin. It is announced that new potatoes contain much less than old ones, but those which have commenced to sprout are quite dangerous. This may be true, but it seems odd that people have lived and thrived for centuries upon them and that their danger has just been discovered. It is safe to assert that any one with whom potatoes do not agree has stomach trouble, and any one who has indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, or liver and kidney weakness needs Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once. This medicine does more than promise, it cures. Avoid substitutes and insist upon having the genuine. Try it.

HEELS OF VIRGIN RUBBER

Virgin Rubber is expensive. The more that goes into a rubber heel, the less profit goes to the dealer. That is why dealers who are compelled to keep O'Sullivan Rubber Heels for those who insist, will attempt to substitute something "just as good" for those who don't. In every case the substitute is junk rubber—it is not as good—it is four cents poorer—but costs you the same money.

Your dealer will attach O'Sullivan Heels to the shoes you are now wearing for 50c—the same as for the poor heels that won't last half as long—when you encounter substitutes send 35c and outline of heel for sample pair to O'Sullivan Rubber Co., Lowell, Mass. FOUND THE DEATH HE SOUGHT.

EATS ANYTHING

Since leaving off Coffee.

"I wish to give my experience with coffee for the benefit of other people. I used coffee for several years and was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia. The doctor told me not to use coffee or tea and put me on a light diet, and I felt better.

"Then I commenced to drink coffee again and had the same trouble come on.

"One day I told a friend about it, who said if I would stop drinking coffee altogether I would feel better, and advised me to use Postum Food Coffee in its place.

"I tried the Postum but did not like it, so I told him about it and he said I didn't cook it right, that is, didn't boil it enough and that I should use cream instead of milk, and to make sure I would use it, he sent a package to the house.

"After I had used that package, I would have no more coffee in the house. Now I don't know what it is to have dyspepsia and I can eat anything. I also give Postum to my two children and they are the healthiest children you could find anywhere. The youngest is a boy 13 months old and we have been giving him Postum for seven months, three times a day. He weighs 30 pounds, and I know that Postum is what keeps both of them so healthy.

"I think all people who have dyspepsia get it from coffee drinking.

"Yours truly, Mrs. Jno. Stringer, 29 S. Florida Av., Atlantic City, N. J."

BOERS SPOIL ROBERTS' PLANS.

They Seem to Have Regained Dash and Vigor.

SHOW BRILLIANT STRATEGY.

STRONG AND MOBILE FORCES IN BRITISH REAR.

Bag Many English Prisoners, Cut Lines of Communications, and Disarrange the Military Program.

LONDON, June 12.—A plentiful crop of reports has been filtering through Lourenze Marques. According to these Gen. de Wet, with 13,000 burghers, is marching on Johannesburg. The Boers have retaken Bloemfontein, where President Steyn again occupies the presidency. The British have sustained a severe defeat at Elandsfontein and have also lost 750 killed and wounded and 150 prisoners in a fight at Vredefort. Nothing from any other sources lends color to these stories, with the exception of the last, which is probably the Boer version of the disaster to the militia battalion of the Derbyshire Regiment at Roodeval.

In regard to President Steyn being at Bloemfontein, a dispatch from Maseru, Basutoland, dated Monday, June 11, says President Steyn was then at Vrede, 200 miles from Bloemfontein.

But it is known that Gen. Roberts' plans have to some extent miscarried. He took the risk of having his line broken when he pushed on to Pretoria by forced marches.

The Free State forces have delivered an effective counterstroke, and have taken over a thousand prisoners at Lindley and Roodeval. They have thrown the British campaign into disorder by their brilliant strategy and have learned by experience how much mischief they can cause by harassing the British line of communications.

Lord Roberts' plan of campaign massed the mounted force at the front for a series of springs toward Pretoria, and left Gens. Rundle, Brabant, Methuen and Colville on the eastern flank to keep the Free State forces away from the line of communications. It has carried him to Pretoria, but has exposed the railway line to temporary interruptions, and has given to Gen. de Wet two successful hauls of prisoners in his net. The British forces will be massed against the Free State commandos as soon as Lord Roberts gets control of the wires.

The war office posts the following dispatch from Gen. Buller:

"Headquarters in Natal, June 11.—We forced Almonds Nek today. It isn't marked on the map, but is the last defile to Charleston Flats. The enemy were in considerable force, with several guns in position. The brunt of the fighting fell upon the Second Dorsets, who carried the position at the point of the bayonet, and the Third Cavalry brigade, who were heavily attacked on our right from very broken country round Iketeni mountain. I hope our casualties are less than 100, which, considering the extreme length of the position, is much less than I expected.

"The whole attack was directed by Hildyard, whose dispositions were extremely good. The artillery, Tenth brigade and Third Cavalry brigade did most of the work."

INDIANS ON WAR PATH.

Uprising of Chippewas at Leech Lake, Minn.

WHITES ARE IN GREAT DANGER.

SOLDIERS HAVE ALL BEEN SENT TO ALASKA.

Self-Styled Messiah Arrested and Bucks Have Sent to All Settlements for Armed Pow Wow.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WALKER, Minn., June 12.—Eighteen hundred Chippewa Indians on the Leech Lake Reservation in the northern part of Minnesota are again on the war path, and as there are no United States troops here at the present time, they having been removed to Alaska a short time ago, the white people are in great danger.

United States Marshal Grimshaw, with headquarters in St. Paul, has been notified of the trouble and a big force of deputy marshals has been ordered to the scene. The reds have been growing ugly for a long time past, and the last barrier to their depredations was removed with the withdrawal of the troops which had been quartered here since the fight two years ago on Bear Island, when seven of the soldiers were killed by the Indians.

Recently an Indian, known as Gway Tay Gonce, one of the sub-chiefs of the tribe, appeared here accompanied by a dozen or more of his supporters and boldly proclaimed himself the Messiah.

Dressed in a fantastic garb, and with his face daubed with war paint, he created much excitement among the red men, and when he began to make dire predictions of coming disaster to all residents of the reservation the Indians simply went wild with excitement.

Nearly 300 of the agency Indians went out to Squaw Point yesterday where war dances were inaugurated. When matters began to look serious Indian Agent Mercier went to the place and ordered the Indians to disperse.

He was met by an emphatic refusal, the Messiah even threatening him with personal violence in case he tried to get the red men to return to their homes. Mercier then swore in a number of policemen and caused the arrest of Gway Tay Gonce, who is now locked in the Indian prison here with a charge of inciting the Indians to disorder.

When the bucks learned of the arrest of their leader they were furious, and at once put on their war dress and began to appear heavily armed and ready for trouble. Nearly every one of the 1800 Indians on the reservation is well armed with a repeating rifle. And it is known they have huge stacks of ammunition laid away for instant use.

The red men have sent runners to all parts of the agency, particularly to Cass Lake and to Ball Club, where there are large settlements, with instructions that all of the red men arm themselves at once and come to Walker, where a council of war is now being held on "Squaw Point."

The Indians are split into two factions, one wanting war with pale faces and the other wanting the scalp of Gway Tay Gonce who, it is believed, will be slain before nightfall if the red men can get their hands on him.

M'CANN MUST PAY.

The Famous License Test Case Affirmed by Supreme Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 12.—Division No. 2 of the Supreme Court in an opinion by Judge Burgess affirmed the judgment of the St. Louis Criminal Court which fined John J. McCann, the noted single taxer, $100 for conducting a real estate business in St. Louis without a license. McCann argued his own case in the Supreme Court on the ground that the ordinance levying a license tax was illegal, because it was a violation of the bill of rights. The opinion says the city has a right to regulate the granting of licenses for business as a police power and hence the ordinance does not violate the state bill of rights. The judgment is concurred in by Judges Gantt and Sherwood of the division, being a unanimous opinion of the division.

GARDEN NOT WANTED

RESIDENTS NEAR PENDLETON AND FINNEY OPPOSE ONE.

ON THE OLD BRAWNER ESTATE.

Efforts Have Been Made to Secure a License and Counter Petitions Are Now Out Against Them.

Residents of the neighborhood of Pendleton and Finney avenues are agitated because of an attempt to establish a summer garden with a saloon attachment on that corner.

The site chosen for the projected place of amusement is the Brawner estate, at the southwest corner of Pendleton and Finney avenues. The building now on the tract, the property of J. W. Brawner, is an old-fashioned mansion with broad verandahs. The lot has a frontage of 345 feet on both Finney and Fairfax avenues and of 132 feet on Pendleton avenue.

When it was first announced that the site was to be occupied by a saloon and summer garden there was considerable indignation in the neighborhood. This feeling has not yet died out, and several papers containing remonstrances are now circulating. Matters came to a focus when it was stated that the Brawner building had been leased by the president of a brewery, and that the proprietor of the saloon and garden would be Mark Gumbertz, former owner of the Morgan Club saloon at Jefferson avenue and Chestnut street.

On the heels of this statement there appeared a petition asking that a license to run a saloon on the site be granted to "J. J. Brophy & Co." The paper when presented to Excise Commissioner Higgins contained the names of 10 property owners, but several of these now declare that they did not sign the document.

A number of residents in the neighborhood have organized to oppose the project. They are circulating counter petitions and have employed Attorney John M. Flynn to look after their interests. Tuesday morning, the Rev. O. J. McDonald, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church at Whittier street and Page avenue, called on the excise commissioner and protested against the issuance of the license. He presented a remonstrance signed by a number of his parishioners. Chief Deputy McGroarty assured him that action on the petition would be deferred until all of the opposing residents had been given an opportunity formally to protest.

A recent effort to obtain a license to operate a saloon on the southeast corner of Finney and Pendleton avenues failed because of concerted opposition on the part of residents in the neighborhood. There is one next to the corner now, with a small summer garden attached.

Records at the excise commissioner's office show that a petition for a license for James J. Brophy & Co. to open a saloon at the southwest corner of Pendleton and Finney avenues was filed June 7 and contained the following signatures: H. V. F. Brawner, by W. S. Brawner, room 318 Commercial building; H. C. G. Luyties, by McNair & Harris Real Estate Co., agents; F. G. and V. M. Zeibig, Charles F. Meyersieck, 4340 Finney avenue; John and Mollie Farrell, 4352 Finney avenue; Mrs. Theresa A. Raum, by R. W. Samuel, and Isaac Jones, by Lowery, "bookkeeper."

In my experience with the sick, I have seen some very serious cases of kidney and bladder troubles cured through the use of Warner's Safe Cure, after doctors had failed to do any good. I have used it myself several times when bilious and for indigestion, and never have failed to find help from its use. I am therefore pleased to endorse it as well worthy the confidence of those suffering with stomach troubles or diseases of the pelvic organs.

A Card.

To the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The following item appeared in your issue of Friday, June 8:

C. W. Nugent Did Not Sign Petition.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will you kindly allow me through the columns of your paper to deny having signed the published petition to the governor of this state for the calling out of the National Guard? The use of my name was totally unwarranted. I did not sign the petition or authorize anyone to do so. Yours truly, CHARLES W. NUGENT.

June 8, 1900.

In answer to the above denial we, the undersigned, desire to state that Charles W. Nugent did sign the petition referred to, in the presence of Mr. Joseph Franklin and ourselves, and the original petition containing the signature of Mr. Charles W. Nugent is now at the Mercantile Club, in the hands of Edward Morris, secretary and cashier of the club, and subject to inspection.

This notice is published for the reason that the above denial of Mr. Nugent is a reflection upon the integrity of the committee who secured the signatures to the petition, and our sense of justice compels us to present the facts to the public.

Conrades, representing the bondholders, for a nominal sum. The amount of the mortgage was $75,000, and the original cost of the theater was $150,000.

Quarreled About a Woman.—Jake Sherininsky, 21 years old, 700 Biddle street, and Sam Margulis, 22 years old, 1026 North Tenth street, quarreled Monday night at 620 Carr street over the affections of Lulu Hayden. The police claim that Sherininsky fired at Margulis with a revolver and that the latter secured the revolver. Both were arrested and at the police station each denied that he owned the revolver. Neither was hurt.

BLOOD POISON.

Mercury AND Potash Make Wrecks, Not Cures

In some cases the external signs of Contagious Blood Poison are so slight that the victim is firmly within the grasp of the monster before the true nature of the disease is known. In other cases the blood is quickly filled with this poisonous virus and the swollen glands, mucus patches in the mouth, sores on scalp, ulcers on tongue, sore throat, eruptions on skin, copper colored splotches, and falling hair and eyebrows leave no room for doubt, as these are all unmistakable signs of Contagious Blood Poison.

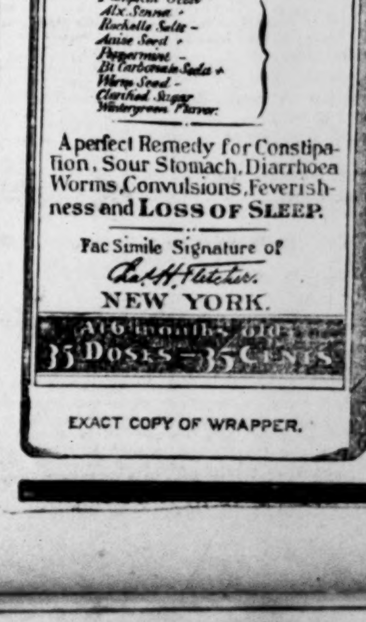

Doctors still prescribe mercury and potash as the only cure for Blood Poison. These poisonous minerals never yet made a complete and permanent cure of Contagious Blood Poison. They drive the disease back into the system, cover it up for a while, but it breaks out again in worse form. These powerful minerals produce mercurial rheumatism and the most offensive sores and ulcers, causing the joints to stiffen and finger nails to drop off. Mercury and potash make wrecks, not cures, and those who have been dosed with these drugs are never after free from aches and pain.

S. S. S. acts in an entirely different manner, being a purely vegetable remedy; it forces the poison out of the system, and instead of tearing down, builds up and invigorates the general health. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this specific virus, and therefore the only cure for Contagious Blood Poison. No matter in what stage or how hopeless the case may appear, even though pronounced incurable by the doctors, S. S. S. can be relied upon to make a rapid, permanent cure. S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy; an experience of nearly fifty years has proven it a sure and unfailing cure for this disease. It is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known.

Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do me no good I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large, red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass."

THE GROWTH OF EXTRAVAGANCE.

Extravagance in every department of the Government has been bred by the recklessness which has accompanied our effort to be a "world power." In the fiscal year 1898, the year before war expenditures began, the cost of the Government was $528,735,079. In 1899 it rose to $893,231,615. In 1900 it was $674,981,022. In 1901 it is to be $709,729,477. The figures are those of the appropriation acts. The increase by items are in round numbers as follows:

Agriculture	$ 900,000
Army	91,000,000
District of Columbia	1,400,000
Legislative, executive and judicial	2,500,000
Military Academy	1,800,000
Navy	32,000,000
Pensions	4,000,000
Postoffice	18,000,000
Sundry civil	12,000,000
Deficiencies	5,000,000
Permanent annual appropriations	12,700,000

The actual total increase is $180,994,398.

This increase would more than pay all the pensions. It is more than enough to build the Nicaragua Canal. It would pay the navy expenses of 1899 three times over. It would support an army seven times as large as that we had before the Spanish war. And we have only just begun, for the House passed the Nicaragua Canal bill now before the Senate providing for an expenditure of $141,000,000. It postponed the river and harbor bill involving an expenditure of about $16,000,000; appropriations for public buildings and grounds of $3,000,000 and the payment of $10,000,000 of outstanding claims. Adding this $170,000,000 to the grand total we have anticipated expenditures amounting to $879,729,477 and an annual increase over the appropriations for 1898 of $350,994,398.

The Administration is much more active in the discovery of Aguinaldo "archives" than in uncovering Cuban postal thefts.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT.

Dr. J. G. Jackson tries in the Sunday Post-Dispatch to answer the question, "Why hair comes out?"

Of 300 cases studied 158 occurred in men, 142 in women. Two facts are prominent. (1.) The great majority of these baldhead persons lead indoor lives. (2) Nearly all of them belonged to the intellectual classes. Lawyers, doctors, students, professors figure in large numbers in the returns. Dr. Jackson's conclusion is that mental work, especially if accompanied by worry and nervous strain, is the principal cause of baldness.

This will be highly gratifying to the men. But women will not be flattered into acquiescing in a treeless plain on the top of their heads. If baldness is a sign of intellectuality men will be vain enough to accept it and quit singeing the hair. Women whose vanity runs in saner channels will still care for their chief glory.

With 10,000 Americans to protect in China, we have certainly a new and great opportunity for war expansion.

THE GREAT "WAR" IS ENDED.

As predicted by the Post-Dispatch when the row began, the Sugar Trust and the Arbuckles have signed a treaty of peace and gone into an agreement which amounts to a combine. The formal and legal consolidation will no doubt take place immediately after the election next November.

During this "war," which lasted 20 months, the two concerns lost $15,000,000. The stock went down from 182 to 92½. The war was kept up until the desired stock deal could be consummated and then peace was made. The "loss" is easily made good. Besides it falls on the stockholders, who thought they had a good thing at 182, but lost confidence and let go at 92½ or thereabout.

This is substantially the truth of the matter, though details are wanting. Sham competition to bamboozle the public is one of the means by which concentration is effected. The only way to correct the evil is to introduce real competition, which can be done by taking down the tariff wall.

With four dead and a score hurt in a Providence trolley car collision, it will be seen that carelessness on street railways may be as deadly as a riot.

CHINESE SELFSACRIFICE.

Some of the leaders of the Boxer rebellion who were condemned to be executed, in order to pacify Germany for the murder of certain missionaries, got off by purchasing substitutes, whose heads were placed in bamboo cages as a warning to the rebels.

Serving as substitute for a man condemned to death is not uncommon in China, and is a good or bad feature of the Chinese character, according to the motive with which the vicarious sacrifice is made. A man who sells himself to death for a sum of money, which he enjoys in brief luxury just before execution, is a reckless sot. He exhibits nothing but maniacal folly. But a man who gives himself up to death in order to obtain money to better the conditions of others whom he loves shows a wonderful trait of character, worthy of admiration.

It would be interesting to discover the motives with which the Chinese substitutes for Boxer leaders met death.

"Peace on earth, good will toward men," is a quotation that ought to be more heard in strike times.

SWINBURNE'S CRAZY BOER VERSE.

The tenth stanza of Swinburne's latest poem on the Transvaal war reads as follows:

We loosen not on these knaves
Our scourge-tormented slaves;
We held the hand that fain
Had risen to smite
The torturer fast.

Who are the "scourge-tormented slaves" that this poem of imperialistic conquest has in mind? Surely not the "Tommies" who have so gallantly dyed the African plains with their blood.

Perhaps the poet means the Basutos and Zulus, who have kept behind the boundary lines of their reservations, watching the white man's legions slay each other.

Or it may be that the "slaves" are the Cape Colonists, some of whom are eager to punish the Transvaal and Free State "rebels." If this is the case, Swinburne will be chagrined to hear that Premier Schreiner and his party have been defeated in a movement to inflict condign vengeance on the fighting farmers and all who aided them.

Although the Boers are hard pressed and likely to be obliterated as a nation, they have one reason to be thankful, namely, that no Swinburne is shouting nonsense from their retreating ranks.

That distinguished Republican statesman, Mr. Boutwell, expresses the opinion that the fair-minded historian will be able to frame a better defense for President Johnson than the historian or the casuist even, will be able to offer in behalf of President McKinley. Considering the bitterness of the Republican feeling against President Johnson, this is a very strong expression.

There is a complaint of the profanity of West End coachmen. There is too much profanity almost everywhere. It is because the profane man cannot realize how foolish and absurd his oaths sound. Even in anger, "cussing" is scarcely to be pardoned. When it is done carelessly and without emotion it is inexcusable.

"We are housekeepers as well as clubwomen," say the women of the Federation of Women's Clubs. So the American woman is all right. With a knowledge of housekeeping she has a good start in life and may undertake all sorts of honorable enterprises.

It may be a great summer for the battleship. A collision of the Japanese and Russian navies would be much more interesting than anything that took place in the Japanese war on China, or in our own Spanish war, where everything was so one-sided.

We not only constantly overcome the Filipinos in ordinary action, but we drive them out of their ambushes. Our daily victories over these formidable people must astonish Little Bobs if he ever has a chance to read of them.

If the Philadelphia platform is to declare that the Philippine insurrection is stamped out, what excuse will it have for the perpetuation of the war-stamp nuisance, which a Republican Congress has refused to reduce in the least?

The soulless wretches who brought on the war against the Boers demand that President Steyn shall be hanged. Our good English friends would have hanged our own George Washington could they have captured him.

If the administration protects American life and property in China and compels indemnity for all outrages it will do its full duty. This country has no business in the game of grab which seems about to be started.

The Eighteenth Century American would not have believed that any Nineteenth Century American would rejoice in the victory of an empire over a republic. What sort of an American will the Twentieth Century produce?

As Mr. McKinley's administration costs the country $10,000,000 a month more than that of either Harrison or Cleveland, its continuance certainly cannot be urged on financial grounds.

As we are constantly taking "strong rebel positions" in the Philippines, and the war is constantly coming to an end, it is of no consequence whether Aguinaldo is dead or alive.

The enthusiasm with which the Boer envoys are everywhere received leaves no doubt as to the sympathy of the American masses with the cause of South African republicanism.

There are cuckoos who talk of Mr. McKinley's horse sense. If what several Republican statesmen are saying is true, Mr. McKinley's sense is rather of the horseless variety.

It is hardly worth while to read in the Washington news what the President's Chinese policy will be. Allowance must always be made for the presidential wabblings.

PATRON.—"Key your ad" is a phrase used by advertising solicitors in their instructions to advertisers. The key is an arbitrary form of letters and numerals which enable the advertiser to know through what advertising medium a given order comes. Thus you see in the Post-Dispatch an ad of the Smith, Jones and Robinson Manufacturing Co., address A 25, Brownville, O. The reader orders the article, using this address, and S., J. and R. know that it comes through the Post-Dispatch. In this way the relative value of advertising mediums may be ascertained.

If I can live
To make some pale face brighter and to give
A second luster to some tear-dimmed eye
Or e'en impart
One throb of comfort to an aching heart,
Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;

A strong hand to the fallen, or defend
The right against a single envious strain,
My life, though bare,
Perhaps, of much that seemeth dear and fair
To us of earth, will not have been in vain.
The purest joy,
Most near to heaven, far from earth's alloy,
Is bidding cloud give way to sun and shine;
And 'twill be well,
If on that day of days the angels tell
Of me, she did her best for one of Thine.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING.—Is made from the yolks of eggs and oil. Put the yolks of three eggs into a clean, cold bowl; stir them lightly and begin to add, drop by drop, as much oil as you require dressing. The yolks of three eggs would hold a pint of oil readily, and with care a quart. Begin, however, to add a few drops of vinegar with the oil after you have added the first half pint of oil. Season your salad rather than the mayonnaise. The dressing should be thick and smooth.

VARNISH FOR SILVER.—Silversmiths protect silver from tarnishing by coating the articles with a thin layer of collodion. The collodion is made very thin with alcohol and spread on the article with a soft brush. Of course, this treatment is not practical for household silver when in use, and I am at a loss to know why so many housekeepers write asking how it is done, unless they wish simply to use it for ornamental pieces.

TO CLEAN BRASS.—There are many preparations for cleaning brass quickly and well, but the old method of using rottenstone and oil is quite as satisfactory as the newer ones. Have the brass washed in soap and water, then dried. Wet slightly, powdered rottenstone with sweet oil and rub the brass with this, using a woolen cloth. Go over it with dry powder and a clean cloth, and polish with a chamois skin.

POTPOURRI.—Gather one peck of sweet-scented rose leaves and spread on blotting paper in the sun. Sprinkle them with a pint of salt. Turn them each day while they are drying. If you can obtain them, add carnations, sweet-scented violets, wallflowers, lavender, lemon verbena, and, indeed, any sweet-scented thing. When all are dry put them in a jar and add one ounce each of clove, nutmeg, Tonka beans, coriander seed and orris root. Add a little bergamot. Pour on this mixture an ounce of alcohol and a few drops of essence of rose and lavender. Let the mixture rest in the jar one week, during which time stir several times; then put it in the rose jars. I have a jar that was filled with this mixture more than a dozen years ago and it is deliciously fragrant still.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE.—Cover the fourth of a box of gelatine with cold water and let soak for half an hour. Whip a pint of cream and set on ice. Line a mold with split lady fingers. Turn the cream into a large bowl and set it on ice. Dissolve the gelatine by adding a little boiling water. Sweeten the cream with half a cup of sugar; flavor with a teaspoonful of extract of vanilla, strain the gelatine in, and stir until the mixture begins to thicken, pour into the mold and set on ice to harden.

SUGAR WAFERS.—Beat four eggs until thick and light. Add gradually one cupful of granulated sugar and beat again, then add three cupfuls of sifted flour. Beat for five minutes, add one scant cupful of butter, soft butter, and beat again for 10 minutes. Heat the wafer irons very hot, brush on both sides with melted butter, put in a small tablespoonful of the batter, close them and return to the fire to bake; they only take two minutes. Take from the iron and roll round a stick at once.

CHOCOLATE CREAM.—Boil a quarter of a pound of vanilla chocolate in half a pint of rich milk, add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, and take from the fire. Whip a pint and a half of cream with three tablespoonfuls of sugar. When the chocolate is cold add half the cream, turn into a freezer and freeze. Line a mold with the frozen chocolate, fill up the center with the cream, cover tight, and bury in salt and ice for an hour.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS.

The Carpenters' District Council will have an important meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at its hall, No. 604 Market street.

The Ornamental Glass Workers' union reports a substantial increase in its membership recently. The union was organized not long ago, and now has every member of the trade in the union.

The Bentonian Mutual Aid Association will have a picnic and games next Sunday at Hoehn's Grove.

The Amalgamated Association of Woodworkers have added several mills and box factories to their membership recently, the forces going into the union in a body.

The organization of 300,000 machinists and workers in allied trades is being planned in this and other cities. The organization, when perfected, will be one of the most powerful labor unions in the United States.

The proposed federation is to be known as the National Machinists' Trades Council, and is to assume control of all the organizations of workers on machinery in this country. There are 100,000 machinists connected with the International Association of Machinists, 80,000 members of the Iron Molders of North America, 20,000 pattern makers and about 100,000 nonunion machinists in the United States. It is now proposed to amalgamate all these into one big union. Important developments are expected in connection with the plan at the national convention of patternmakers now in session at Buffalo. All of the organizations are in excellent condition, and several strikes recently won have made this proposed move possible.

The Central Trades and Labor Union will have its annual meeting and election of officers Sunday, June 24.

The San Francisco Labor Council has started an agitation to discourage Asiatic immigration. An immense mass meeting to direct public attention to the evil was addressed by Mayor Phelan, Civil Service Commissioner Paton, Prof. Ross of Stanford University, and other distinguished sympathizers with the movement, which is to be extended to all organized labor centers on the Pacific slope. The Labor Council says in a circular: "Unless the gates of our country are closed against the invading hordes of Japanese the Pacific coast state will in less than one generation be flooded with Asiatics and enslaved by farm and factory lords. This is no exaggeration. Japanese laborers are now landing on our shores at the rate of nearly 1000 a week."

The Stove Mounters' Union, A. F. of L., will have a reunion and picnic at Rinkel's Grove, Sunday, June 24.

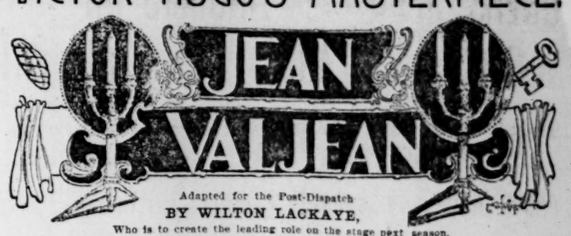

The Georgia Federation of Labor, at its recent state convention in Augusta, advised the workingmen throughout the state to take independent political action and, as a result, not only C. C. Houston, but Lew J. Kilburn, a union printer of Macon, and Dennis O'Connell, a union machinist of Augusta, have been elected to seats in the Georgia State Assembly.

ST. LOUIS LABOR LEADER.

Mr. David Kreyling is the president of the Central Trades and Labor Union, and has served in that position 10 different times in as many years. He was the first president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor, and assisted in its organization at Kansas City in 1891. He served three terms as a delegate from the St. Louis and state labor organizations as delegate at the conventions of the American Federation of Labor. First at New York City in 1895. Cincinnati in 1896 and Detroit in 1899. Mr. Kreyling is also a member of Cigarmakers' Union No. 44, and when not engaged in looking after the many and intricate affairs of labor interest in St. Louis is engaged in that trade as a journeyman.

He is one of the central figures in trying to arrange an adjustment of the street car difficulties. Mr. Kreyling was for five years business agent of Cigarmakers' Unions Nos. 44 and 281 of this city. And it was through his efforts that the bogus union labels were wiped out. He is 41 years old and lives at No. 1827 South Seventh street.

VICTOR HUGO'S MASTERPIECE.

Adapted for the Post-Dispatch
BY WILTON LACKAYE,
Who is to create the leading role on the stage next season.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Jean Valjean, a poor woodcutter, steals a loaf of bread to save his family from starving. He is sent to prison at Toulon for 19 years. On his release he commits two more robberies. Then he reforms, changes his name to Madeleine, moves to a manufacturing town, where he becomes rich and is at last appointed mayor. The local police inspector, Javert, was formerly a jailer in Toulon prison, and fancies he recognizes the mayor as an ex-convict. Another man is arrested as Jean Valjean and is about to be sent to prison for life, when the real Valjean interposes and declares his own identity.

Javert arrests Valjean. Jean is believed to be drowned at Toulon, but escapes. He goes to Montfermeil, where he rescues Cosette (the child of a woman he once helped) from the clutches of the Thenardier family, at whose inn the girl is a drudge. Valjean and Cosette go to Paris to live. Javert discovers them. They flee from him and take refuge in the grounds of the Petit Picpus Convent.

Valjean takes refuge with the convent gardener, Fauchelevant, whom he had formerly befriended. Fauchelevant secured for Jean the post of assistant gardener, and Cosette is educated at the convent.

When Cosette is grown Valjean and she take a house in Paris. Valjean meets Thenardier, who calls himself Jondrette and professes to be in poverty. Valjean promises to come to Thenardier's house that evening with money. Marius Pontmercy, a poor young barrister, has fallen in love with Cosette. He rooms next to the Thenardiers and overhears them plan to rob Valjean. He notifies Javert.

CHAPTER V.
In the Den of the Wolf.

JONDRETTE (or Thenardier) began a long tale of hard luck, to which Leblanc listened attentively. As the imposter talked four men, ill-dressed and with smoke-grimed faces (apparently chimney sweeps), crept noiselessly into the room and stood or sat in the background.

In the midst of his story the speaker paused. Then, springing to his feet, he shouted:

"Do you recognize me? I am Thenardier, the innkeeper, from whom you stole the child nine years ago!"

The attic door was torn open, and three men in blue cloth blouses and wearing masks of black paper came in. The first was thin and carried an iron-shod cudgel; the second, who was a species of Colossus, held a pole-ax by the middle, while the third, a broad-shouldered fellow, not so thin as the first, but not stout as the second, was armed with an enormous key stolen from some prison gate.

It seemed as if Jondrette had been awaiting the arrival of these men, and a hurried conversation took place between him and the man with the cudgel.

"Is all ready, Jondrette?"

"Yes," the thin man replied.

"Where is Montparnasse?"

"He's stopped to talk to your eldest daughter."

"Is the trap ready?"

"Yes."

M. Leblanc was very pale. He looked all around the room like a man who understands into what a snare he has fallen, and his head, turned toward all the heads that surrounded him, moved on his neck with an attentive and surprised slowness, but there was nothing in his appearance that resembled fear.

He had formed an improvised bulwark of the table, and this man, who a moment before merely looked like an old man, had suddenly become an athlete, and laid his robust fist on the back of this chair with a formidable and surprising gesture.

Thenardier meantime was shouting at him:

"Well, I have got you; this morning I licked your paws and to-night I shall gnaw your heart!"

Thenardier stopped out of breath; his little narrow chest panted like a forge-bellows. His eyes was full of the ignoble happiness of a weak, cruel and cowardly creature who is at length able to trample on the man he feared and insult him whom he flattered; it is the joy of a dwarf putting his heel on the head of Goliath, the joy of a jackal beginning to rend a sick bull which is unable to defend itself but still has sufficient vitality to suffer.

M. Leblanc did not interrupt him, but said, when he ceased speaking.

"I do not know what you mean, and you are mistaken. I am a very poor man, and anything but a millionaire. I do not know you, and you take me for somebody else."

"Ah!" Thenardier said hoarsely, "a fine dodge! So you adhere to that joke, eh, old fellow? Ah, you do not remember, you do not see who I am!"

"Pardon me, sir," M. Leblanc replied, with a polite accent; "I see you are a bandit."

"A bandit! Yes," cried Thenardier, "and I was a soldier before that. I saved Baron Pontmercy's life at Waterloo. A lot of thanks I ever got for it! I want a fortune from you, my friend."

For some minutes past M. Leblanc seemed to be watching and following every movement of Thenardier, who, blinded and dazzled by his own rage, was walking up and down the room, in the confidence of knowing the door guarded, of holding an unarmed man and of being nine against one, even supposing that his wife only counted for one man.

In his speech to the man with the pole-ax he turned his back to M. Leblanc. The latter took advantage of the opportunity, upset the chair with his foot, the table with his fist, and with one bound, ere Thenardier was able to turn, he was at the window. To open it and bestride the sill only took a second, and he was half out when six powerful hands seized him and energetically dragged him back into the room.

The four chimney-sweeps had rushed upon him, and at the same time Mother Thenardier seized him by the hair.

Marius could not resist this sight.

"My father," he thought, "forgive me!" and his finger sought the trigger.

He was on the point of firing when Thenardier cried:

"Do not hurt him."

Then he added:

"Tie him to the bed and search him!"

He was obeyed. There was little money in the prisoner's pockets.

"Try the torture on him," suggested Mme. Thenardier.

Thenardier rose without any affectation, removed the screen from before the fireplace, and thus unmasked the chafing-pan full of burning charcoal, in which the prisoner could perfectly see a huge chisel at a white heat, and studded here and there with small red stars.

Then he came back and sat down near M. Leblanc.

"I will continue," he said. "We can come to an understanding, so let us settle this amicably. I did wrong to let my temper carry me away just now. I do not know where my senses were. I went much too far and uttered absurdities. For instance, because you are a millionaire I told you that I insisted on money, a great deal of money, an immense sum of money, and that was not reasonable. Good heavens! you may be rich, but you have burdens, for who is there that has not? I do not wish to ruin you, for I am not a bailiff after all. I am not one of those men who, because they have advantage of position, employ it to be ridiculous. Come, I will make a sacrifice on my side, and be satisfied with 200,000 francs."

"Now," he went on a minute later. "Unless you wish to taste the torture write at my dictation a letter to your daughter, saying you are ill and wish her to come here at once, bringing 200,000 francs with her."

Valjean glanced at the glowing chisel, then wrote the letter in silence.

He addressed it:

"Mlle. Fabre, at M. Urban Faire's, 17 Rue St. Dominique d'Enfer."

Mme. Thernardier snatched up the letter and hurried out of the house.

Half an hour passed. No word was spoken by the waiting men.

Then Mme. Thernardier entered hurriedly.

She was purple with fury.

"A false address!" she screamed.

Thernardier turned on Valjean and shouted:

"A false address? Why, what did you expect?"

"To gain time!" the prisoner thundered.

And at the same time he shook off his bonds, which were cut through; the prisoner was only fastened to the bed by one leg.

Ere the seven men had time to look about them and rush forward he had stretched out his hand toward the fireplace, and the Thenardiers and the brigands driven back by surprise to the end of the room, saw him almost free, and in a formidable attitude, waving round his head the red-hot chisel, from which a sinister glare shot.

The bandits gradually recovered from their surprise.

"Be easy," said Bigrenaille to Thenardier, "he is still held by one leg, and will not fly away. I put the packthread round that pax."

Here the prisoner raised his voice:

"You are villains, but my life is not worth so much trouble to defend. As for imagining that you could make me speak, make me write what I do not wish to write, or make me say what I do not intend to say"—

He pulled up the sleeve of his left arm and added:

"Look here!"

At the same time he stretched out his arm and placed the naked flesh on the red-hot chisel, which he held in his right hand by the wooden handle.

Then could be heard the frizzling of the burnt flesh and the smell peculiar to torture-rooms spread through the garret. Marius tottered in horror, and the brigands themselves shuddered—but the face of the strange old man was scarce contracted, and while the red-hot steel was burying itself in the smoking wound, he—impassive and almost august—fixed on Thenardier his beautiful glance, in which there was no hatred and in which suffering disappeared in a serene majesty.

For in great and lofty natures the revolt of the flesh and of the senses when suffering from physical pain make the soul appear on the brow in the same way as the mutiny of troops compels the captain to show himself.

"Villains," he said, "be no more frightened of me than I am of you."

And, tearing the chisel out of the wound, he hurled it through the window, which had been left open. The horrible red-hot tool whirled through the night and fell some distance off in the snow, which hissed at the contact. The prisoner continued:

"Do to me what you like."

He was defenseless.

"Seize him," said Thenardier.

At this moment a stone crashed through the window.

Around it was wrapped a paper bearing the words:

"The police are upon us."

Thenardier rapidly unfolded the paper and held it close to the candle.

"Eponine's handwriting—the devil!"

He made a signal to his wife, who hurried up to him, and showed her the line written on the paper, then added in a hollow voice:

"Quick, the ladder; we must leave the bacon in the trap."

"Without cutting the man's throat?" the Megaera asked.

"We haven't the time."

"Which way?" Bigrenaille remarked.

"By the window," Thenardier replied. "As Ponine threw the stone through the window, that's proof that the house is not beset on that side."

The prisoner paid no attention to what was going on around him, he appeared to be thinking or praying.

So soon as the ladder was fixed Thenardier cried:

"The lady first!"

And he dashed at the window, but as he was stepping out Bigrenaille roughly seized him by the collar.

"No, no, my old joker; after us!" he said.

"After us," the bandits yelled.

"You are children," said Thenardier, "we are losing time and the police are at our heels."

"Very well, then," said one of the bandits, "let us draw lots as to who shall go first."

Thenardier exclaimed:

"Are you mad? Are you drunk? Why, what a set of humbugs; lose time, I suppose, draw lots, eh? With a wet finger? A short straw? Write our names and put them in a cap?"

"May I offer my hat?" a voice said at the door.

All turned; it was Javert who held his hat in his hand and offered it smilingly.

(To be continued.)

DRIFTING.

"My soul today
Is far away,"
As T. Buchanan Read would say.
In shady glen,
Afar from men,
It woocs the old delights again.

In sylvan glade,
Where light and shade
And beauty all the air pervade,
The sweet content
For mortals meant
Steals softly in, with languor blent.

The cricket calls
From trees and walls,
Across the mimic waterfalls,
And katydid
Lies safe amid
A mass of blooms, in twilight hid.

Bud, leaf and vine,
Which softly shine,
To fill the air with sweets combine
And winds, imbued
With summer's mood,
Sigh lazily in solitude.

How good to lie
Beneath the sky
And watch the clouds that circle by!
The weight of care
Is lost in air,
And beauty greets us everywhere.

BIRTHDAY LUCK.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12.

If you were born on this day, regardless of the year and the hour, this is what fortune has in store for you:

Today is unfavorable. Avoid changes, removals and be guarded in social and home matters and amusements.

Your coming year is not favorable, and great care is advised in all matters. Unfortunate changes, home disturbances and sickness are indicated. Remember "the way of the transgressor is hard."

SPORTS OF THE DAY.

BOOKIES HIT HARD.

MONDAY WAS A GOOD DAY FOR TALENT AT FAIR GROUNDS.

THEY PICKED ALL SIX WINNERS.

Another Good Card Offered for Tuesday and Rare Sport Promised Patrons of the Races.

The bark of the boys who peddle the "handicaps" at the track with their four and five winners down the line every day was no "josh" on Monday.

Some had four winners, while others exhibited a card with the whole six picked.

In fact, Monday was a bad day for the bookies, and a good one for the talent.

The best horse landed in every race but one, and in that the best horse was weighted so heavy he had no business winning.

Tuesday the card is a little harder to pick than on Monday.

In the opening event eight will sport silk. On form, Celtic Bard looks the best, and should win.

Barrieca, who won his last out, is touted to repeat, but in his last race he beat only a poor lot, and was all out at the finish. Zazel and Cresus should beat him out. There is a horse in this race, Haviland, by name, who is worth a chance bet. As a 2-year-old Haviland ran rings around some of the best youngsters at the track last year. This being his debut as a 3-year-old, nothing can be told as to his form. If right he can go the route, and the 92 pounds he is asked to carry will not stop him.

In the second race seven youngsters will face Starter Bruen. Joe Frey, the crack juvenile of the Schorr string, is in with 113 pounds, and should win easily. Isabel, who won the last race on Monday, will follow him home, while Wild Pirate, on form, should be in the money.

Harry Pulliam, Golden Harvest and Small Jack should finish in the order named in the third event. Pulliam is about as likely a youngster as there is in the O'Brien stable. His last race was a good one, and he should hold his field safe. Harvest or Small Jack will get the place.

Triaditza seems the best of the lot that will face the flag in the fourth race and will probably win. Her previous races this year have been good ones, but she has only won one. She is in a soft spot and has only Van Hoorebeck and Harry Duke to beat. Guide Rock, another starter, seems to be going back and should not prove dangerous.

The fifth race is one of the hardest of the season. Midlight, Easter Card, Theory, Judge Wardell and Lord Neville will go to the post in this event. Midlight's last race, when he beat Theory, Lord Neville and Yellow Tail, should make him favorite and the handicappers seem to think he has the best chance. Easter Card will give him a run and should be second, while Judge Wardell seems to hold the others safe.

Moroni, who has been running in the money often of late, looks like an easy winner in the last race. Branch, another starter, who has class to him, has only gone to the post once this season. Last season he was a world beater and may prove the same again. He will probably beat Dave Waldo out for the place.

ZERO WEATHER IN NEW YORK.

THE BIG SUBURBAN.

IT WILL BE RUN AT SHEEPSHEAD NEXT SATURDAY.

ETHELBERT AND JEAN BERAUD.

Those Two Great Thoroughbreds Are Numbered Among the Probable Starters.

THE SUBURBAN.

Ethelbert (Maher)	130
Imp	128
Jean Beraud (Turner)	127
Kinley Mack	125
Batten (Wakefield)	124
Box (O'Connor)	117
Martimus (Ballard)	117
Prince McClurg	117
Lotharlo	117
John Bright	119
Approval	114
Raffaello (Jenkins)	113
King Barleycorn	112
Kilmarnock (Odom)	109
The Kentucklan	106
Latona	103
Wait Not	102
Herbert	96
Petruchio	90
Survivor	100

Should Box be scratched O'Connor will have the mount on Imp.

The above is a list of the horses, jockeys and weights that will take part in the Suburban to be run at Sheepshead Bay next Saturday.

The Suburban will this year be one of the greatest races ever run, as all the best horses in training are included in the list of entries.

Ethelbert and Jean Beraud are again among the starters, as is also Imp, and the race between the Metropolitan handicap winner, W. C. Whitney's crack four-year-old, and the "black whirlwind" will be worth witnessing.

Ethelbert is beyond a doubt the best horse in training, as was proved in his match race with Jean Beraud June 2, when he came home an easy winner by 10 lengths.

The horses ran on even terms for three-quarters of a mile but at that point Jean Beraud tired badly and Ethelbert came away and won the race in easy fashion. Many horsemen thought that Jean Beraud had lost his old-time speed, but after his race in the Brookdale handicap on Tuesday, when he defeated Imp at a mile and an eighth by a neck, it showed that all he needed was a race or two to bring him around to his old time form.

The race this year will no doubt be better than two horses, and it will not be wrong to predict that it will be a good contest from start to finish. Imp cannot be figured in this race, if her recent performances count for anything, as in nearly all her races she finished second or third. She only won one race, and that was the Parkway handicap, when she defeated Kinley Mack, the Brooklyn handicap winner, by two lengths.

Martimus, the winner of the Futurity stakes two years ago, is also a starter in this race, and from all reports he is in fine condition. He ran two races on the Canadian circuit, finishing first in one carrying 129 pounds, and second in the other, being beaten a neck with the same weight.

The winner of the Withers stakes, Kilmarnock, is also in at 109 pounds, and, although a three-year-old, is considered by many to have a chance of landing this rich event to the credit of his owner. The Brooklyn handicap winner, Kinley Mack, is also entered in the race, but will carry a three-pound penalty for winning the other big race.

Another horse that is considered to have a chance of looking the winner in the eye is John Bright. This horse has not been seen on the eastern tracks this year, but has run three races on the western tracks, two of which he won. In a handicap race at Louisville he equaled the world's record for a mile and 70 yards, beating Bangle and Batten easily by three lengths. He also won the Turf Congress stakes at a mile and an eighth at Latonia in 2:01¾, with 127 pounds up, in a driving finish.

The race at present looks to be between Ethelbert and Jean Beraud on form, but still, should these two horses set a killing pace, Kilmarnock, John Bright or Kinley Mack may be able to win.

CLIFFORD AND CORCORAN.

Those Two Professionals Signed by the Globes.

Manager Bartley of the Globes has strengthened his team in signing two well-known semi-professional players, namely: Thomas Clifford, who has played with the Peoria, Ill., club of the Illinois and Indiana League, and Mike Corcoran, who has played with some of the best semi-professional clubs in St. Louis.

The Globes have now one of the strongest semi-professional teams in St. Louis. The following well-nown players compose the team: H. Swatsina, first base; J. Flood, second base; M. Wilcox, short-stop; M. Corcoran, third base; T. Clifford, center field; L. Rielly, left field; F. Tighe, right field; C. Reid, catcher; M. McDermott, W. Crowley and N. Lamb, pitchers.

All first-class clubs out of the city wishing games should address Chas. J. Bartley, manager, care of Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., Seventh and Franklin avenue. They have an open date for next Sunday.

Lange Going to Paris.

Here is the very latest news from Frisco: The big, but gentle, Willie Lange, undoubtedly one of the most popular players who ever played on a Chicago team, will start for Paris on or about the first of the month. William will be accompanied by his charming bride, and the hardest work he expects to do while abroad is to explain to curious Americans visiting the exposition his reasons for retiring from the ball field

RELEASE OF QUINN.

SOME PEOPLE IN ST LOUIS DO NOT RELISH IT AT ALL.

THINK HE WILL BE NEEDED.

On Tuesday the Redcaps Are Due to Play the Hard-Hitting Philadelphia Team.

It would have done Pat Tebeau no good to have heard what the good people of Kerry Patch had to say about him this morning when they read that he had released Joe Quinn.

Since one day in 1884 Quinn has had the "Patch" with him.

He came to the Irish a freckled-faced lad of 18. He had a gripsack that was a sight and which contained all his earthly possessions. On coming to fill a place on a professional team was laughed at, and the children of the "Patch" guyed the life out of the country yap when he made his debut on the field at Union Park.

But before the first game was played Quinn was given a warm spot in the hearts of these rough Kerry people, and he has held it ever since. He played ball his first out with all the ease and grace of a finished professional. He batted like a fiend and ran the bases like a deer.

It was his skill combined with his everlasting genial spirit and good nature that made friends for him—friends that have followed him through all his 16 years of ballplaying and that are his friends now.

Sixteen years is a long time, especially in the baseball world. It brings to the front a new generation of baseball patrons and it sends to the rear the army that sat on the bleachers and cheered for "Dunny" and old "Schief" and the veterans who fought for the old Union that long ago.

Quinn was one of the noblest of the old army and from the day he entered the gates of old Union Park, carrying that old carpet bag, his career has been marked by all that was glorious and good, and no act of his has ever marred his work or brought the blush of shame to his cheek. Wherever the game is played Quinn is known as one of its best and most honorable exponents. These things have made him friends everywhere, but he has no stancher and truer admirer than that legion which call North St. Louis their home and which number Quinn as one of their tried and most honorable citizens.

Quite naturally, therefore, the news of his release from the St. Louis Club caused a sensation in that quarter. Setting Quinn's personal popularity and his ability as a player aside, it is hard to see why Tebeau should have released him, for at this time the team appears to be badly in need of just such a fine utility player.

Wallace may join the team in Philadelphia on Tuesday, but even if he does (as McGraw is on the injured list) who would take Keister's place should he be injured. Probably a catcher or a pitcher would be sent to the position and lose the game as Criger did when he was forced to take McGraw's place in the first Boston game.

Quinn will probably remain with the team for ten days, if he is not grabbed in the meanwhile by some other club.

Quinn's release means that Keister will be a permanent fixture at second and that Dillard, the big ex-Detroiter, will be retained as regular utility man. Dillard is still a youngster and has much to learn, and as Tom Loftus says, it is very costly work teaching minor leaguers to play ball. Quinn, on the other hand, is a seasoned player and is putting up as fast a game today as he ever did. His batting has been fair and he can be relied on to play any position in the infield. Dillard was never meant for an infielder, his proper position being in the outer gardens. Tebeau will have a hard time making Dillard the fielder that Quinn is and he will likely lose many a game in trying.

The St. Louis team will buck up against a hard proposition Tuesday when they tackle the nard hitters of Philadelphia with McGraw and Wallace out of the game. The pitching department is also in poor shape, Young and Powell having been sent home from New York, both being unfit to pitch. Young is suffering with rheumatism and Powell has been under the care of a physician for the past ten days. Jones is also on the hospital shelf, but he will be kept with the team as he cannot be spared. Siddhoff, Weyhing and Hughey or Jones will probably oppose the Phillies in the series.

The Redcaps dropped to the .500 mark by their defeat at the hands of the Giants on Monday, but as that they are only five games behind the Phillies, who still are at the top of the pennant heap. If they can take the present series from the leaders they will come back to League Park in a good position, but it is extremely doubtful, in their badly crippled condition, whether they are equal to the task or not.

Donlin assisted in two double plays from right field in Monday's game, thus establishing the reason's record for a right fielder.

The Cardinals, minus the valuable services of Capt. McGraw and Bobby Wallace, were treated to a coat of whitewash, the first they have received this season, on Monday afternoon, by the New York Giants, or, to be more correct, by "Winnie" Mercer, the ministerial-looking Gothamite, who made his first appearance on the rubber this season.

The final score was 8 to 0.

Mercer had everything that a pitcher desires, speed, good curves and almost perfect control, and the best the St. Louisans could get off this combination was five hits, four of which were made in the first three innings. Quick fielding on the part of the New Yorks prevented them from scoring.

Jimmy Hughey was in the box for St. Louis, and he started out as if he meant to make short work of his opponents. He blanked them for two innings, but in the third struck a snag. After one man was out Mercer was given his base. Hughey then ascended to the skies, and before he returned to terra firma Smith, Gleason, Selbach and Doyle had singled, and Davis and Van Haltren had rapped out doubles, netting their side a total of six runs.

New York tallied again in the fifth on Dillard's wild throw of Davis' grounder, singles by Doyle and Van Haltren and a forced out. They secured their last run in the seventh, after two men were out on Doyle's single and Van Haltren's two-bagger.

WITH THE BOXERS.

Three Important Matches Scheduled for Tesday Night.

Those two great little fighters, Tommy White and Terry McGovern, promise to have a battle royal in New York. They meet here this Tuesday night in a 25-round bout. This time White will weigh 126 pounds to McGovern's 120, and this advantage in weight may help him some.

Asked the other night how long it would take him to finish White, McGovern said:

"What round? Well, I'm not guessing or doing anything that those far-seeing guys did before the final, but it will be as quick as possible. I don't expect that I'll land right before the twelfth, and maybe not till the fifteenth. But I hope it will go there, no matter in what round."

This Tuesday night at Tattersalls, Chicago, Bennie Yanger and George Dixon, the old king of the featherweights, will meet in a six-round go. A win or a draw with Dixon will give Yanger national prominences which is slow coming to fighters from Chicago, not because of their showing, but because of prejudice. Dixon has not been putting people away or to sleep of late years, so the chances are exceptionally good of Yanger sticking six rounds. Sticking, his hitting power should carry him safe on form.

Tuesday night, too, is the time set for the meeting of Jack Jeffries and Billy Stift at Chicago. They, too, come together in the ring at Tattersalls, and Stift, being a great and good boxer, will for the first time put Jack Jeffries' mettle to the real test.

WHEAT BREAKS AGAIN

THE MARKET HAS ANOTHER OFF DAY.

MANY CHANGES IN POSITION.

The Fine Grain Early Is Quite Bullishly Inclined, Later the Gains Are Removed.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, June 12.

The tendency of the early market was downward, being governed by the weak cables, but later, on the bullish crop report, prices firmed decidedly, and for some time the range was steadily advanced.

Liverpool opened ⅛d lower for both wheat and corn. London opened steady for cargoes, and ⅝d up for wheat futures. Paris opened 10@15 centimes, or ½@¾c higher than yesterday's close.

The bulls had the best of the early market, being able to cause several important changes in range. This was done principally on the crop report issued yesterday, which was more bullish than was earlier expected.

In spite of this encouragement the market was at no time as lively and interesting as during some days of the past week. The bulls were not certain enough of their position. There was some news valuable to them, but there was quite a widespread impression that a setback might be expected at any time.

On account of this lack of certainty the market was of a slightly halting nature, slow to take advantage of the opportunities offered. As a consequence, the range, after the first few trades, became quite narrow.

The June government report reduces the prospective winter wheat yield to 323,000,000 bu, from 372,000,000 bu indicated by the May report. The spring wheat percentage, 87.3, and area, 18,205,000 acres, suggest a yield of 249,000,000 bu, but this is on data supplied June 1, and is not representative of the present Northwest crop damage.

The Northwest, with no letup in the drouth, is forced to continue buying wheat at high prices. This morning Minneapolis and other western grain centers traded quite heavily and were responsible for the better tone soon after the opening today.

Some light scattered showers were reported today, but they were of little importance. Most of them were in Kansas and only served to help an already good crop.

Some farmers of the Northwest report wheat not over 8 or 10 inches high, and already heading out. In such fields no amount of rain would help.

July opened today at 73c, and after going to 72⅞c the advance began. The future sold at 73⅛c, 73¼c, 73⅜c, 73½c, 73⅝c, 73¾c, 74c, and at 74⅛c and 74¼c. At this point there was a slight letup in the demand, and the range dropped to 73⅞c and to 74c. August was bid 73c, and then 73⅛c, finally opening at 73⅛c. September opened at 73⅛c and soon sold at 73⅜c, 74c, 74¼c, 74⅜c, 74½c and at 74⅝c.

Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 478 cars, as compared with 601 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at St. Louis today were 32,017 bu, compared with 19,131 bu same date last year. Of these 1563 sacks and 38 cars were local, compared with 1347 sacks and 23 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at primary points today were 470,067 bu, as compared with 876,000 bu same date last year.

Shipments, 327,223 bu, compared with 239,000 bu same date last year.

Corn was little changed today, though somewhat weaker at the opening of the session, feeling the effect of cables and not having much news from this side.

The futures felt some sympathy with the advance in wheat, but as a general thing they were quiet and extremely narrow, doing little during the whole session.

July opened at 38⅝c and later went to 38⅞c and was bid and offered around 39c.

Receipts of corn at St. Louis today were 78,400 bu, compared with 69,575 bu same date last year. Of these 65 cars were local, compared with 230 sacks and 53 cars same date last year.

Receipts of corn at primary points today were 463,584 bu, as compared with 714,000 bu same date last year.

Shipments, 604,872 bu, compared with 563,000 bu same date last year.

The oats market was quiet and fairly steady today, with little doing at any time.

Futures were dull and uninteresting, with few sales recorded.

Receipts of oats at St. Louis today were 36,000 bu, compared with 33,600 bu same date last year. Of these 24 cars were local, compared with 24 cars same date last year.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

CHICAGO, June 12.—In excitement and volume of trade today's wheat market was the peer of recent sessions. The Northwest drouth was still the all-absorbing consideration. This territory this morning was reported still without adequate rains, and the crop damage reports were numerous and very pessimistic. The government report, too, was considered bullish, but it was a minor influence. July opened easy, ⅛c lower to unchanged, at 72⅞c to 73⅛c, and in 15 minutes shot up to 74⅝c. The easiness at the opening was due to profit-taking and following the bulge longs again forced the price back, but the dip thus caused was followed by another rally to 73⅝c. At this point the weather bureau prediction of showers in Minnesota and the Dakotas became an influence, and July declined to 73⅛c. Cables were not responsive to the advance here yesterday. Local receipts were 148 cars, 4 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 478 cars, against 554 last week and 601 a year ago.

Later, rains were reported from Dakota and Minnesota, some of them said to be quite heavy, especially through North Dakota. These reports caused selling under which July declined to 73@73⅛c. Near the end the market recovered partially, closing firm, July ⅛c over yesterday at 73⅛c.

The corn market was strong early with wheat, but responded with alacrity to the reaction in the big market, turning decidedly easy following the bulge. Trade was fairly large early and country offerings liberal. July opened a shade lower, at 38⅝@38¾c, and sold up to 39¼@39⅜c, but reacted from that to 38⅝@38¾c. Local receipts were 815 cars.

The close was firm, July ⅛@¼c improved at 38⅞@39c.

Oats were quite lost sight of in the wheat excitement, and those who remained in that pit contented themselves largely with following the fluctuations of wheat. July opened unchanged at 22c, sold to 22¼c and then reacted to 21⅞c. Local receipts were 409 cars.

The provisions market was weak. Hogs were lower at the yards, packers were sellers and the outside demand early was slack. July pork opened 12½c lower, at $11.62½, and sold off to $11.45; July lard opened 5c down, at $6.77½@6.80, and July ribs 5@7½c depressed, at $6.77½, declining to $6.70@6.72½.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 12.—London sent higher prices for Americans this morning and there was a general response at the opening here all along the line. The demand was not large and gains were small.

The opening rise in prices was not maintained, and the market yielded on a small volume of dealings. Steel stocks were irregular, Tennessee Coal falling 1⅝, while Republic Steel advanced 1. Third Avenue lost 2¼ and Wheeling, Lake Erie 1st preferred jumped 2⅝. For the most part the market hung nearly stagnant at about last night's level.

Prices hardened in the second hour, but so slightly as to have little significance. St. Paul got up to 114 and Tennessee Coal recovered a point. A majority of stocks did not move at all. Dealings in bonds were small and prices lower.

CORONER EXONERATES CAHILL

Young Man Shot Frank Reichert in Self-Defense, According to the Testimony.

Coroner Lloyd Tuesday morning held an inquest on the body of Frank Reichert, 19 years old, of 610 South Third street, who was shot at Third and Plum streets Saturday night.

Jerry Cahill, of 719 South Second street, was held for the shooting, pending the result of the inquest. The testimony of a dozen witnesses showed that Cahill and Reichert were arguing in front of William Wolf's saloon, 913 South Second street. Wolf ordered them to quit, and finally threatened Cahill with a brick. Cahill fired at him, the bullet striking Reichert. He died later at the City Hospital.

The verdict was in accordance with this evidence, and exonerated Cahill on the ground of self-defence.

VICTIM OF FOOTPADS

HOSMER LEEDS WAS BEATEN AND ROBBED JUNE 2.

CRIME ONLY MADE PUBLIC NOW.

He Was Assaulted Near Fourteenth Street and Franklin Avenue and Seriously Hurt, but May Recover.

Hosmer Leeds, contracting freight agent for the Burlington Railroad, with headquarters in St. Louis, was taken to the home of his parents at Batavia, O., Tuesday to receive medical treatment. He was beaten and almost killed by footpads, and is still in a serious condition.

Though the crime was reported to the police it was not made public, and no arrests have been made.

The assault occurred on the night on June 2, on Fourteenth street, near Franklin avenue. Young Leeds was knocked down, beaten and kicked into insensibility, and robbed of all his valuables. When he was taken to the Mayfield Sanitarium it was thought his injuries would result fatally, but it is now thought he has a chance for recovery. His most serious injury is an internal one, caused by a kick in the region of the liver.

Leeds is well known in society and is noted for his taste in dress. While in St. Louis his home was at 3516 Washington avenue. On the night of June 2 he was detained at his office until after 10 o'clock. He walked at Sixth and Locust streets for a Suburban car, and while there he was told there was a blockade on the line, so he walked along the line until he should be overtaken by a car.

He was passing the mouth of an alley on Fourteenth street, between Morgan street and Franklin avenue, when two men rushed upon him and commanded him to throw up his hands. He obeyed, but this did not prevent the robbers from assaulting him. He was struck in the face and knocked down. While prostrate he was kicked repeatedly. The footpads rifled his pockets, taking his gold watch and chain, $10 in currency and a bunch of railroad passes.

Leeds was found lying on the pavement and taken to a neighboring drugstore, and from there sent to the Mayfield Sanitarium on a Suburban car. His parents were notified and his father came on to St. Louis from Batavia, O. For a week it was not deemed advisable to remove him from the sanitarium. His internal injuries cause him constant pain. He has obtained an indefinite leave of absence from his employers and will remain at Batavia until able to resume his duties here.

DELEGATES GO TO JEFFERSON.

STONE WHETS HIS TRUE, TRIED LANCE OF ELOQUENCE.

Phelps Sharpens the Transportation Pencil and All Eyes Turn Toward the Tilting Ground on the River Bank.

Delegates to the state convention to elect delegates-at-large will begin to gather at Jefferson City Wednesday, and from early morning until the chairman's gavel signals final adjournment the political pot will boil furiously.

This convention, by the force of circumstances, has become the most important political event of the season. It overshadows the state nominating convention, because it promises one of the bitterest factional fights that Missouri Democracy has witnessed since the war.

At Kansas City the harmonizing influence of Mr. Dockery was present to pour oil, but at Jefferson City there will be no peacemaker. It is one of those cases where the services of a peacemaker are not desired by either party to the controversy.

Former Gov. W. J. Stone and "Col." W. H. Phelps have been carrying chips on their shoulders some months and the unpleasantness has now reached the point where each of them realizes that the chips must be knocked off and the fight must commence.

True, in his ironical style, "Col." Phelps has held out the olive branch, suggesting that he and the former governor and the present governor drop it, but the tender was not accepted by the former governor.

"Col." Phelps has been organizing his forces for weeks. He controls all the transportation facilities, and delegates who prefer passes to paying fare must apply to him. He is said to have the support of a considerable majority of the Jefferson Club delegates, through his combination with Gov. Stephens and with certain corporation interests which are said to have contributed to the fund that paid the Jefferson Club's primary expenses.

A prominent Jefferson Club official said: "I figure that 'Col.' Phelps will get the support of most of the Jefferson Club delegates. Gov. Stephens will not be very extensively supported by our men. He is not popular in St. Louis just now, and can control only those few delegates who are under the direction of the police officials. Gov. Stone's following among the club delegates is limited."

Gov. Stephens' strength is in the country. He has enough delegates instructed for him to elect him, if the delegates keep faith. There is a belief on the part of many, however, that instructions will not be followed and that when the fight gets hot much of the governor's strength will desert him.

Former Gov. Stone is depending a good deal on his influence with country delegates and his oratorical powers to win his fight. His purpose is to defeat Phelps and Stephens, and he will leave no stone unturned to accomplish it. He will pull all the wires under his control before the convention and will summon all his eloquence in an appeal to the delegates not to elect Phelps. Stone's oratory has been tested before and it has carried him through tight places, and he depends upon it to carry him through this one.

Several things may happen as a result of this fight. Stone, Phelps and Stephens may all be elected delegates-at-large. In that event the fourth man might be David A. Ball of Pike, Judge Chrisman of Jackson, Ed Harbor of Trenton, or Moses C. Wetmore of St. Louis.

Stone, Stephens and Phelps may all be turned down, in which event Senators Cockrell and Vest and any two of the others mentioned may be elected.

If Stone can accomplish Phelps' and Stephens' defeat he can name the delegates, and he will probably name Wetmore, Chrisman, Harvey Salmon and Ball as available candidates.

The convention will also select 30 district delegates to the national convention. These, with the four delegates-at-large, will compose the Missouri delegation. The delegation elects the national committeeman. If the Phelps-Stephens combination can control the election of the delegation it can name the national committeeman. It will not name Stone. Its choice would most likely be Senator Cockrell, unless Gov. Stephens is powerful enough to secure his own election.

The Democratic state committee will meet at the Laclede Hotel Wednesday morning. Its first business will be organization and the election of a secretary and treasurer. Virgil Conkling, the secretary of the old committee, fought the Dockery-Seibert combination at Kansas City and will probably be retired. J. H. Edwards of Jefferson City is thought to be the choice of Messrs. Dockery and Seibert for the secretaryship.

The committee will also select temporary officers for the convention. Congressman DeArmond is slated for temporary chairman.

PROMOTION FOR A. J. DAVIDSON.

Made General Superintendent of the 'Frisco Railroad.

B. F. Yoakum, the new president and general manager of the Frisco lines, took up the reins of office at headquarters in St. Louis Monday. His first official act was to issue a circular, announcing the election of the directors at their last meeting, as follows:

B. F. Yoakum, president and general manager.
A. Douglas, vice-president and general auditor.
C. H. Beggs, vice-president and assistant to general manager.

Then was was issued, announcing the appointment of A. J. Davidson, present superintendent of transportation, as general superintendent of the entire system. Mr. Davidson has been a railroad man for years, and the appointment is a popular one, for merit only.

FOR A NEW GERMAN PAPER.

Three-Fifths of the Required Capital Reported Subscribed.

German-Americans interested in the starting of the new German paper in St. Louis met Monday afternoon in the office of H. A. Haeussler, and decided to capitalize the company at $35,000, of which $15,000 was reported already subscribed. Another meeting will be held in the same place Wednesday afternoon to take further steps.

Mr. Haeussler presided over the gathering Monday, and there were present Otto Hilpert, John Mueller, F. W. Mathias, A. S. Schoellhorn, H. S. Albrecht, Charles Regel, Dr. C. G. Rohlfing and F. W. Blankenmeister.

The committee in charge of the celebration is composed of the Rev. George Goebel of St. Charles, Mo., chairman; John Wollau, Waterloo, Ill., secretary; J. Kramer, Quincy; H. Walser, C. G. Haas and John Baetzer of St. Louis.

HE HAD TWO WIVES

CENSUS MAN UNEARTHED PECULIAR SITUATION.

MORMONISM NOT IN UTAH.

Newark German's Two Fraus and Children Living Happily in Same House.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEWARK, N. J., June 12.—Two wives are living happily with one husband, not in Salt Lake City, but in this town.

A census enumerator found this remarkable family.

The enumerator visited the house and met its head—a German, who seemed fairly educated and spoke good English. They got through the usual preliminaries and then the census man asked; "Wife's name, please?"

"Which?" said the householder calmly.

"Hey?" gasped the enumerator.

"I said which."

"Why, how many have you got?"

"Well," counting on his fingers, "there is one dead and two alive."

"But you're divorced from one of those two, of course?"

"Divorce? Not much. They are both living here with me. Here you, Gretchen, You Frieda. Come out and talk to the gentleman."

And two smiling, buxom women appeared.

The census man in a daze mechanically noted the womens' names. Then followed the names of the man's seven children, four of whom were from one of the wives and the remainder from the other wife.

The enumerator asked for an explanation and it was given cheerfully. The man said he was born in Germany and married there 20 years ago. Four children were born to him. He became tired of a married life and came to this country. On the ship on which he sailed he met a girl and fell in love with her. They parted, but in 10 years he came back, found her and married her.

Two years ago his first wife came to this country. She found him living with wife No. 2. There was no trouble and matters were taken philosophically with the result that wife No. 1 also took up her home with the husband. He then sent to Germany for the children by his first spouse. They have been happy ever since.

"How do you manage to get along?" asked the enumerator.

"Well, I give half my pay to Frieda and the other half to Gretchen each Saturday night."

The supervisor does not know just what to do with the case, as the information he receives is not supposed to be used as the basis of any action to the detriment of the person who gives it. He refused to give the name of the alleged bigamist.

The Old and Well-Known Vandalia-Pennsylvania through sleeping car line to Michigan resorts will open up for the season June 18. Through sleeper will leave St. Louis Union Station 1 p. m. daily; dining cars.

AMERICAN REPUBLICS TO MEET.

Probably in the City of Mexico Some Time in Next January.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Secretary Hay has invited the diplomatic representatives in Washington of all the American republics to meet him in the diplomatic room of the state department on Wednesday morning to discuss the time and place for holding the next international conference of American states and such preliminary details as may be agreed upon at this time. It is understood that nearly all the members here are now in possession of instructions from their governments on the subject and that definite conclusions will be reached. It appears that practical unanimity has been reached to accept the invitation of President Diaz for holding the conference in the City of Mexico and that next January is regarded as the most favorable time. Congress has appropriated $25,000 for the participation of the United States delegates, who will probably be appointed by the president in a few weeks.

GOV. SHAW IN A COLLISION.

C. & N. Trains Come Together and Engineer Is Killed.

DES MOINES, Io., June 12.—About 9 o'clock last night, as the regular passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern was pulling out of Ames, it came into collision about three blocks from the station with a special passenger train that was coming on. Engineer Thomas Smith was killed, but the other enginemen jumped and were not hurt. Both engines were demolished, but the rest of the trains remained on the tracks and were not injured. None of the passengers was seriously hurt, beyond a shaking up. Gov. Shaw was on the outgoing train bound for Chicago and Philadelphia, and received a cut on the temple and a bruised arm, but was able to go home and will be able to resume his journey tomorrow. Mrs. F. B. Jones of Ames was slightly hurt.

Symbols of Success

A vacant chair and a portrait on the wall—strange symbols of success! Yet, in many a home these are the symbols of the success of the man who did not find time to care for his health, or neglected the increasing warnings of disease which Nature gave him. When the stomach is "weak" and food is imperfectly digested and assimilated, it is only a question of time until the break-down comes. The stomach is the very center of vital power and must be kept in health if sickness is to be avoided. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the supply of pure, rich blood, and gives the body strength to withstand the strain put upon it by the struggle for success.

"I was a sufferer from what the doctors called indigestion, but after trying several eminent physicians failed to get a cure," writes Mr. Frank Mericle, of Independence, Jackson Co., Mo., Box 473. "Some of my symptoms were soreness in pit of stomach, fullness, tired feeling, constipation; sometimes soreness would extend to bowels. Some one recommended me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and after taking only a few bottles of 'Discovery' and your 'Pleasant Pellets' can say I derived more benefit from them than any other medicine I ever tried. I began to gain flesh from the start. Have recommended it to others and will continue to do so."

The sluggish liver made active by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

TO BE WITH HER HUSBAND.

Only Reason Known Why Mrs. Fulka Juergens Committed Suicide.

Mrs. Fulka Juergens, who committed suicide Monday by taking carbolic acid, at her sister-in-law's home, 3206 Kossuth avenue, is supposed to have done so because she mourned the absence of her dead husband, who passed away seven years ago. She is reported to have said frequently that life without him was not worth living, and that she was going to join him.

Mrs. Juergens, who was 67 years old, lived with her son, George, at 3304 North Twenty-third street. He went home to luncheon with her Monday noon, and then left her for about an hour. Then he went back, and found her dying. Before a doctor could be called she was dead. The empty poison bottle told the story of her end.
